

Mayor seeking state equalization revisions

Mayor Hyle Carmichael announced Monday an anticipated decrease of more than one third in Romulus' State Equalization factor this week, and simultaneously called for "even more scrutinization" of the equalization concept.

"It is my observation after nearly a year of reassessment by county personnel and from results of Romulus' Board of Review," the mayor said, "that equalization tends sometimes to treat property owners equally unfair as easily as it supposedly corrects inequities."

Noting that he hopes to come up with some suggestions for revisions in the system in the near future, Carmichael charged that State Equalization is currently the "single largest influence increasing local tax bills without voting approval."

"What is happening is that two factors influence the dollar costs of taxes - the assessment value and the millage rate," he said.

"The law has left control of the one factor, millage rate, in the hands of the people or their elected representatives in most cases."

"But it also has taken control of the other factor, the assessment value, out of the hands of local people with the State Equalization concept."

Carmichael said that State Equalization will charge Romulus taxpayers more than half again as much in city, school and county taxes this year as the local assessment roll would have produced alone - and this in spite of a county-conducted reappraisal of all land and personal property in Romulus.

This will be accomplished by a 1.58 (or 158 percent) factor being applied by "equalization" to the local assessment roll.

A year ago, Carmichael said, Romulus was subjected to "nearly double taxation" when local assessments were equalized 192 percent.

"We cannot prove that the increase was unjust, although we claim that it was," the mayor said. "And we do not discredit the county's work. However, we do know that after completion of this year's Board of Review and our own review of new assessments through the assessor's office, that many additional adjustments were deemed necessary. Most of these were decreases!"

Carmichael said that he could "find no fault" with the reappraisal of Romulus land and personal property which had been recommended by City Assessor Harold L. Reiner and authorized by the Township prior to Carmichael taking office when Romulus was incorporated.

"Those phases of a total reappraisal have now basically been completed and, under Mr. Reiner's direction and judicious work by the Board of Review, have resulted in increases in the total valuation of the city and correction of a great number of inequities," Carmichael said.

"It was my pledge in assuming this office nearly a year ago that Romulus citizens and taxpayers would be given equity and full dollar value services."

"This administration is fully pursuing that pledge, but finds that the law is so structured as to limit local authority over assessments in many cases - mainly because of the State Equalization concept which was set up for equalizing assessments for school and county taxing purposes."

"The State receives not one dime of the taxes collected locally on real estate and personal property, but State Equalization is the most significant influence in increases in

Oakland judge denies subdivision injunction

A court injunction sought by 40 Romulus families residing in the Meadows, a Romulus subdivision, against Kaufman & Broad Homes Inc. and four sister firms, all of Southfield, was denied April 21 by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore.

defendant firms from building 2,000 government-subsidized "land track" homes in the subdivision, told attorneys for the three couples who sued the companies they must make their complaint more specific before he will consider the case.

Judge Moore, in denying the homeowners' request for an injunction restraining the

No court date was set for hearing on the suit. The Meadows subdivision is located at Harrison and Eureka Rds.

The homeowners charged in a suit filed April 7 that Kaufman & Broad was guilty of "fraud, misrepresentation, breach of contract and warranty" and asked $1.2 million in refunds for their homes and $400,000 in relocation costs and damages.

homes they were assured by the firms that the development the Meadows, would be "a custom home community."

They charged the subdivision became a "project of low income homes" when 400 homes, financed through an FHA mortgage subsidy program, were built and another 2,000 planned.

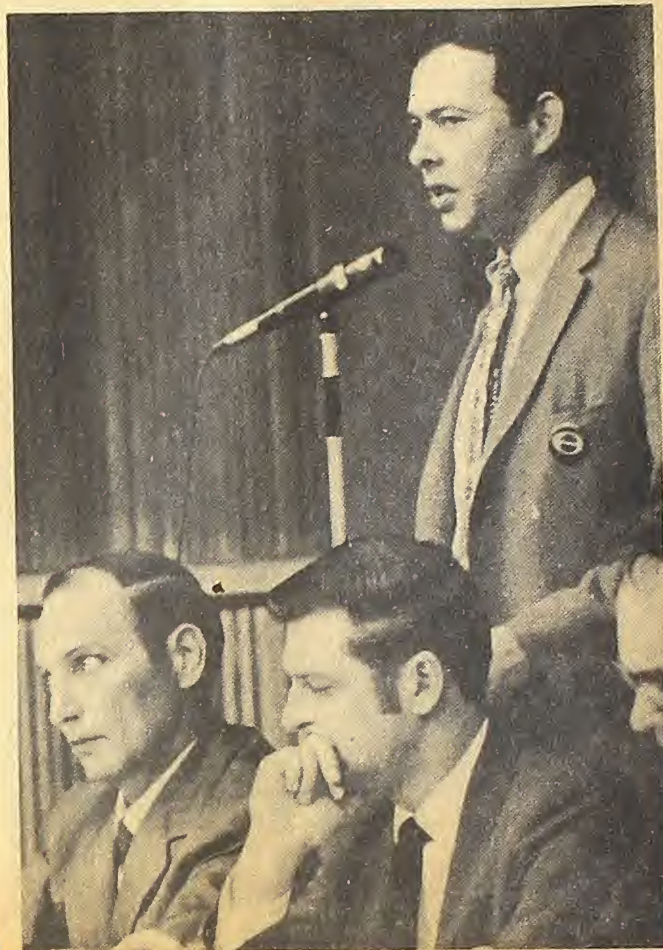

The homeowners, through their attorneys, charged that the less expensive residences devalued the original 40 homes which cost from $20,000 to $29,000.

The defendant firms besides Kaufman & Broad Homes Inc., are Homes Values Inc., Greenview Homes Inc., Kaufman & Broad Sales Inc., and International Mortgage

Corp., all housed at 18610 Eight Mile Rd., Southfield.

Attorneys for the firms contended that the new homes were no different from the homes purchased by the homeowners.

They also charged that the residents were shown the less expensive homes before they made home purchases and asked the court to dismiss the suit.

ZONING ORDINANCE DETAILED — George A. Peck, assistant director of the city's reappraisal, on buildings, is explained to a group of residents attending a public hearing held at Romulus High School Auditorium on April 20. More than 150 persons attended the public hearing.

Romulus High School announces top students

Romulus Senior High School Principal Gerald Neut announced Monday top 10 scholars of the class of 1971.

Valedictorian in the class of 230 students is Miss Susan M. Diepenhorst, daughter of Gerald and the late Marion Diepenhorst. Susan resides with her aunt, Miss Pearl Morris, 13880 Huron River Dr.

Salutatorian of this year's graduating class is Glenn C. Hayes, the first male student to reach this position in several years. He is the son of Mrs. Archie Hayes and the late Mr. Hayes of 7335 Hollywood, Romulus.

Susan has maintained an excellent scholastic record throughout her school days which began at Romulus Elementary School. Graduating with a grade-point average of 3.976, Susan joins her sister, Flora, who was valedictorian of the class of 1969.

She plans to major in physical therapy at the University of Michigan. She has been a cheerleader two years, an active member of the National Honor Society and a leader in 4-H Club activities.

Glenn is graduating with a 3.833 grade-point average. A band member since a sixth grade at the Gordonier Elementary School, Glenn has won honors in district and state music competitions. He was chosen to represent Romulus last year at Wolverine Boys State and is currently president of the National Honor Society at Romulus High School.

He plans to major in instrumental music at college. Following in order of rank are the remaining eight leaders of the 1971 class:

Kathleen Hood, daughter of Mrs. Dodie Boone; Jane Owens, daughter of Mrs. Ruby Owens; Carol Senart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Senart; Kristopher Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Adams; Linda Marshick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Marshick; Janet Popich, daughter of Mrs. Christine Popich; Dorothy Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Welch; and Marilyn Banks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Banks.

Council studies zone objections

Formal action on Romulus' new Master Plan and Zoning Ordinance by Romulus City Council is awaited by land developers, residents and business firms.

The city council took under advisement objections and requests received at a public hearing on the new zoning ordinance held at the Romulus Senior High School April 20.

More than 100 interested citizens in addition to members of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Zoning and city officials attended the public hearing.

Most of the objections came from developers who wanted more rezoning for multiple construction than now provided in the new zoning law and master plan.

The city council, in taking under study the objections, requested any other community citizen or firm having interest in the zoning ordinance to send a letter to the clerk's office voicing any criticism that they may have.

The new zoning ordinance reduces considerably the amount of acreage zoned for multiples and prohibits the expansion of a mobile home park in the community's northeast section, differing in those respects from a previous council-approved master plan and zoning law which was rejected by referendum vote last summer.

The previous zoning ordinance provided 500 acres for multiple zoning. In the new proposed plan only 80 acres of vacant land in the northeast portion of the city will be zoned for multiple dwellings. The remainder or 420 acres will be zoned residential.

The new zoning law will provide an additional 125 acres now vacant for multiple dwellings.

At the request of city council, last summer a 26-member Citizens Advisory Committee was created to assist in drafting the new zoning ordinance.

The six square miles of Detroit Metropolitan Airport serves as the hub of zoning plans with commerce and industry around it. Homes and multiple dwellings are planned for the outer perimeter of the city, Charles W. Hazen, Industrial Coordinator for Romulus announced.

Two to be tried for murder

A Dearborn man and a 27-year-old Romulus woman will stand trial for first degree murder in the apparent mid-morning robbery-murder Jan. 29 of a Dearborn bar owner and a Westland patron.

Michael J. Barbat, 34, and Eula G. Unsworth, 27, of 8160 Dodge, will be arraigned in Wayne County Circuit Court on May 4 following their pre-trial examination Wednesday by Dearborn District Judge Vincent Fordell.

The two are charged with the double murder of Lawrence Suprenant, 33, of 31020 Middlebury, and Mary Solomies, 62, the owner of the Solomies Bar at 10081 Eagle in Dearborn where the crime occurred.

Police arrested Barbat and March 21 in Indianapolis and Mrs. Unsworth at the Greyhound bus depot in Detroit two days later on federal flight warrants after a two-month search.

New OEO program nearing

By JOE CHAREST

Two factions fighting for control of future federal poverty funds sailed through a potentially volatile public hearing Wednesday by agreeing to join hands in forming a new Community Action Program for eight Wayne County locations.

The new organization, approved during the hearing by the Wayne County Board of Commissioner's Committee on Economic Opportunity, will be called Communities United For Action, Inc. (CUFA). Included in its membership are the cities of Inkster and Romulus and Sumpter Township.

Discontinuance of an earlier OEO program due to federal withdrawal of funds left suburban Detroit cities without poverty organizations. Federal officials cited a lack of direction in programs and leadership as their reasons for withdrawing support. This new program will conform to all OEO standards and will be carefully watched by the board of commissioners.

The first of the two groups involved was comprised of mayors of seven of the communities to be affected by such a program and the supervisor of the one township involved.

Highland Park's Mayor R. B. Blackwell spoke for the group and explained that public officials such as the mayors had been hampered in poverty plan efforts because of "too little influence over the private sector and too little leverage over other levels of government."

The second group vying to form a poverty program applied for designation as the Wayne County Poor Peoples Corporation.

Its spokesman, Mrs. Henrietta Lesinski, told the public hearing that the organization was formed as a safeguard for the poor. "People were worried," she said, "that a corporation run by the mayors would become a political issue and lead to patronage, with the poor not getting as much representation as they should."

Honors band readies spring program

The Romulus Elementary School Honors Band, sponsored by the city Recreation Commission in cooperation with the school district, will present a spring concert on Thursday, May 13 at the Romulus Senior High School Auditorium.

The young musicians, who come from all eight elementary areas of the district, will begin to play at 7:30 p.m. under the direction of Mrs. Sue Scofield, band instructor.

Mrs. Scofield explained that the band's members, who are the outstanding musicians from each school, are chosen by individual audition to be members of the honors group.

The band has rehearsed weekly all winter at the junior high school. Parents have cooperated by providing all after-school transportation.

The spring concert will be the first public performance for the group, although it tops off a series of 10 concerts that have been held at for the elementary children during the school day.

The junior and senior high school bands will also perform on the evening of May 13. Mrs. Scofield is a second year teacher in the Romulus district.

Narcotic council meeting planned

An organizational meeting of the Mayor's Council On Narcotics is scheduled for tomorrow (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. at the Water Board building, located at 36515 Bibbins St., Romulus.

Romulus Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael has invited representatives from the elementary school area, from the law enforcement agencies, the governmental groups, school administrators, a physician and a jurist.

The purpose of the meeting, it was reported, is to begin a drug program for Romulus. A committee from the Romulus Area PTA Council has proposed such a committee be formed, after a year of study of drug prevention and education programs in neighboring communities.

The project was kicked off by a well attended drug seminar sponsored by the Merriman Elementary School PTA.

HEARING ON NEW ZONING ORDINANCE — More than 150 residents, land developers, planners and business owners attended last Tuesday's public hearing on Romulus' proposed new Zoning Ordinance. There were a few objections raised. Land developers, who had land options to buy or who had already purchased land options, asked for zoning for multiple construction. A lot of land sites once zoned multiple had been rezoned residential in the proposed zoning ordinance. Members of City Council who presided at the public hearing took the objections and suggestions under advisement. Final action on the new zoning law is expected soon.

Adult graduates honored Sunday

Twenty-one area residents received their high school diplomas in a ceremony honoring adult education graduates held Sunday afternoon at Huron High School, New Boston.

Superintendent Byron K. Antcliff in speaking to the group said:

"Each of you has found that rare spark of establishing a goal for yourself and then motivating yourself to accomplish this goal. By doing this, you have contributed something rare to your community. I do urge each of you to continue this wonderful contribution."

Board of Education President Carl Rush stated his great pride in what the adults had accomplished. He stated that the program was made possible by a grant from Eastern Michigan University and state assistance which was obtained by the Board and Superintendent Antcliff. He expressed optimism that the whole community education program would continue to grow and prosper.

Community School Director Roger Benner outlined that the program was for all people of the area and not for any special group. He invited all to seek ways to use the schools even more. "The schools belong to you and should be used by you," Benner emphasized.

Music was richly provided by the Community Band, directed by Luke Wegienka, assistant school superintendent.

Among the 180 people in attendance were Board of Education members, Elwood Krzyske, Leo Kyko and Lee Betz.

New Romulus OEO nearing

Mrs. Lesinski stated that the group was willing to join forces, however, under two stipulations: first, that on a board ranging from 33 to 39 members, 16 members would represent the poor from each target area; and second, that low income employees of the WCEOC program (the one discontinued) be rehired.

The final resolution called for just such a program. In compliance with OEO regulations which state that one-third of the board must be elected officials, the CUFA plan recommended an initial board of 36, with 12 public officials, 16 elected representatives of the poor, and eight members from private interest groups, such as business and civic agencies.

Principle objections from private citizens attending the hearing centered around the fact that it is apparently extremely difficult for many public officials to administer poverty funds well, since the poor know most well what their own problems are and officials least of all.

But the mayors see as the principle problem facing them not one of understanding the poor (which they feel the 16 elected poor representatives should eliminate) but as one of uniting public and private sectors for action.

(D-2nd Dist.) who introduced the resolution; Charmie Currie (D-6th Dist.), Catherine Shavers (D-13th Dist.); Edward Jones (D-16th Dist.); and John Lesinski (D-20th Dist.). They voted unanimously in favor of the combined organization.

Detroit itself has a completely separate OEO program. Other cities included in the CUFA plan are Highland Park, River Rouge, Taylor, Ecorse and Hamtramck.

Federal and state OEO representatives were on hand to explain to the public exactly what the government demanded from proposed poverty programs.

"Two underlying issues," the mayors' statement on CUFA says, "in the relationship between city hall and the Community Action Program are the ability of the CAA to represent the poor, and the capacity of city hall to respond. If there is anything that all participants in this project would agree on, it is that if city hall is to respond well to the needs of the poor and serve the rest of community too, all available resources have to be better marshalled at the municipal, regional, state and national levels."

"The concept of 'maximum feasible participation' by poor people has had a decided impact on municipal government," the mayors said.

The Commissioners Committee on Economic Opportunity include Commissioners Roscoe L. Bobo (D-18th Dist.), chairman; George F. Killen

Instructions for forming agencies include the demand that the Community Action Agency "work with the poor, the public sector, and the private sector to achieve its basic goal," which is to make the entire community more responsive to the poor.

"The CAA must mobilize public and private resources to this end," explained Luther J. Flanagan, deputy director for the state OEO. He explained that a program should be designed so that public officials provide services, the private sector provides resources, and that poor participants provide programs that work.

Actions to be completed now that the Board of Commissioners has given the nod to CUFA, include the commissioners themselves choosing four representatives to sit on the Board of Directors.

In addition eight private citizens shall be selected by Wayne County Poor Peoples Corporation to sit on the expanded Board of Directors with equal authority to prior members (the mayors and supervisors).

These eight will serve until an election picks 16 poor people's representatives of the communities involved.

These 16 and the 12 public officials will determine the remainder of the board from the private sector.

The election of the 16 community people will be monitored by the state OEO Office and certified to the federal OEO officials. There will be at least two weeks notice given to all areas of where and when and how to vote for their representatives.

Under the federal guidelines, it will be the responsibility of the CUFA Corporation to produce the local resources which will be matched by federal funds. Present requirements are that CAAs provide 20 percent of the total cost of all projects.

Since local share is not limited to just cash, each public unit will provide their part in funds, space, personnel or services.

CUFA is requesting that in addition to their efforts, the Wayne County Commissioners maintain their previous budgetary allocation of money to the poor people of Wayne County.

Man charged in shooting

Eddie Buckley, 46, of 6342 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, accused of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder, faces pre-trial examination before 34th District Court Judge James B. Stone today (Wednesday).

Buckley is charged by Romulus police with the shooting of John Wooden, 46, of 6025 Carnegie St., Romulus on the afternoon of April 19.

Romulus Police Chief Jacob J. Koch and Sgt. Robert Taylor reported that Buckley objected to Wooden's drinking from his bottle of whiskey while at a poolroom, located at Vinewood and S. Wayne Rd. Wooden had entered the poolroom and was offered a drink from the bottle by a member of a group of friends.

Police reported that

Buckley left the poolroom and returned with a .38 caliber pistol and shot five times toward Wooden outside of the poolroom.

The fifth shot hit Wooden in the lower portion of his body. He was taken to the Wayne County General Hospital for treatment.

Buckley surrendered to police after the shooting. He told officers that he threw the gun into the Belleville Lake.

Arraigned before Judge Stone, Buckley stood mute. A plea of not guilty was entered for him and he was ordered held under a $5,000 cash bond.

A search last Saturday for the weapon was unsuccessful.

Revisions sought

assessments and in tax bills," he charged.

Carmichael estimated that "about $1 million" had been deducted from Romulus' assessment roll by the assessor and Board of Review although the overall roll was still up by several million due to the increased growth and reappraisal.

"A year ago Romulus was taxed on $134 million after State Equalization. This year it will be about $157 million - or about $23 million more than the local assessment roll showed before the State Equalization factor (expected to be 158 percent) is applied."

"While this decrease in the State Equalization factor from 192 percent to 158 percent is most welcome, we still believe that the equalization factor is too high considering the efforts we have made to bring our personal property and land up to true market value."

"The final phase of our reappraisal, on buildings, is expected either this year or next depending on a number of Extension," Carmichael said, "and should bring Romulus property to a zero factor of equalization."

Carmichael called upon Romulus citizenry to support the reappraisal program in order to "get control back in local hands where citizens can do something about it."

"It is our intention to make as certain as possible that Romulus property owners are assessed as fairly and equitably as humanly possible ... and we will fight this matter in courts, if necessary, to get that justice," Carmichael said.

Northwest rezoning to enhance Wayne

The recent Wayne City Council decision to rezone 21 acres of land in the city's northwestern corner in an effort to bring significant residential development to that area was well thought out.

Good judgment was displayed in the council's attempt to research the probable benefits and weigh them against the possible adverse affects of changing the zoning of some acres of high class residential land to an apartment zoning.

The city fathers realized that Wayne, despite Councilman Paul Lada's contention, will never become one of the communities of this area significant enough to lure influential executives from their posh surroundings in Detroit's richer suburbs.

Despite Lada's hope, we know the influential executive class, which would indeed better the community in which it lives, gravitates to the more recognized areas of the county to settle.

The Birmingham, Bloomfields and Grosse Pointes offer far more socially to the executive types than Wayne.

The final council decision can enhance the community, by bringing in a larger cross-section of the social strata.

In addition, the apartment zoning will increase the beauty of the surrounding community, since its distinctive design is the most attractive available for multiple unit developments.

The residential area will also benefit the community by increasing the recreational area for that section of town, and in turn taking away the city's need to develop further recreational facilities for that segment of the population.

Most of all, the city fathers realized that in times of decreasing single family home development throughout the area, Nelson Dembs' proposal offers a workable plan to build up some 110 acres of undeveloped land in an attractive and taxably profitable manner.

The over-all council decision showed good taste, and extremely good thinking.

Break for taxpayer is small consolation

Trying to invest an essentially grim situation with a little humor, The Wall Street Journal devotes some ten lines of a double column editorial to "The Six-Minute Break" which has been granted "the dehydrated taxpayer" this year.

According to The Journal's calculations, the taxpayer will work six minutes less in 1971 than in 1970 out of his eight-hour workday, to meet his federal, state and local tax obligations. The decline is attributable partly to federal tax reductions, but also to lower government revenues as a result of the business downturn.

In years gone by...

A look through The Daily Eagle files at news of Western Wayne County one, 15 and 25 years ago:

25 YEARS AGO

April 28, 1946 — George C. Howe, former Wayne resident, has resigned his position as executive assistant to the vice president and general manager, Detroit, of Michigan Central and New York Central railroad, according to word received by Mrs. Emma Moore of Wayne. Born in Wayne Feb. 8, 1878, Howe entered railroad service Sept. 12, 1898 as a stenographer with Michigan Central.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raymond of 35007 Sims Street were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Raymond and son, Timmie, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Raymond, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Jones and son, Carol. The Raymond family was together for the first time in three-and-a-half years.

William (Bill) Tegge, former minor league player, has taken over the coaching duties of Dakes Hardware's class D baseball squad. Following a large parade on Sunday, the ball squad will witness the unveiling of the Shorty Moran monument and will then take on its first official league tussle.

Dakes showed its batting power in a practice game against the Northside Merchants and beat them, 12-8.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar McWilliams were Ann Arbor visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gray held open house in celebration of their wedding anniversary.

15 YEARS AGO

April 28, 1956 — A reception was held at 5:00 p.m. at the Masonic Temple in Kalamazoo honoring the Grand Worthy Advisor and the Grand Musician of the Order of Rainbow for girls in the state of Michigan.

The Grand Representative to the state of Ohio, Sarah Chamberlain, Mrs. Lucille Anderson, Mother Advisor, Deanna Anderson, Sister of Nature, and Eva Lu Armstrong, Worthy Advisor, were the ladies from Wayne Assembly Number 72 who attended the reception. Mrs. Mary Chamberlain accompanied the group.

Bernard Modlinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Modlinski of Hubbard St., celebrated his 13th birthday with a group of forty classmates, friends and neighbors. His sister, Mrs. Frances Szabo, and his mother were hostesses. Games were played and prizes were given everyone. A lovely buffet supper was served and the evening ended with a dance which was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Dorothy Gamble of 26330 Ross was the winner of the basket of groceries at the party given at the home of Mrs. Betty Bonner of Durand St. The affair was a presentation of the Senior Usher Board of the Springhill Baptist church. Mrs. E. Breedlove is the president.

ONE YEAR AGO

April 28, 1970 — The Wayne Lions Club elected officers for the coming year and new president, Bud Hillyard, was handed the gavel by outgoing president Art Woodward.

Bill Duty, Jack Drew and Rusty Jacobson were voted in as first, second and third vice-presidents, respectively. Walt Hinkle was elected secretary of the group and Jim Nelms was named treasurer.

A state environmental health officer inspected conditions at Canton Mobile Village at the request of leaders of the Homeowners Association there. This was among the many recent appeals to state and local officers to better protect residents of trailer parks.

About 25 members of the Canton organization attended a recent hearing in Lansing where some 50 state mobile home dwellers expressed support for a bill giving them tenants' rights.

Twenty-seven newspaper carriers went to Lansing in a bus trip sponsored by Associated Newspapers, a division of Panax Corp.

Each of the carriers had to sign up six new customers on his route to win the trip. The youngsters from Wayne, Westland, Garden City and Inkster were all excused from school for the day.

If the City of Westland gets approval from the Municipal Finance Commission to sell $13 million in road paving bonds, the city could begin pouring concrete for the new routes by mid-summer.

That was the prediction of Mayor Gene McKinney as the city dispatched the papers seeking approval for the bonds. The city council voted final approval for the 1970 paving program on Monday.

A city-wide school census will not be taken this year for the Garden City Public Schools, said Alex P. Rudenko, attendance officer. "Changes in regulations governing the conduct of an annual school census has made the procedure optional," he said in explaining the decision.

Fellrath Junior High principal Jacob Blanchette has been named 1970 Inkster Chairman for the Michigan Cancer Foundation Children's Crusade Against Smoking.

Betting rejection noteworthy

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK, State representative, 38th District

One of the most noteworthy action of the house in the last few days was its rejection of a proposal to allow state-controlled off-track betting in Michigan.

This was somewhat of a surprise since the house had passed a similar bill in 1970, only to see it die in the senate.

This time it was stopped cold in the house as only 12 representatives voted for it. There were 51 votes in opposition.

The sponsor of the bill said he wanted a reconsideration of the vote at a later date, but as it stands now chances of approval in this session seem dreary.

Supporters of the bill estimated that once the off-track system was operative it would bring in some $10 million a year in needed revenue for the state.

Under the bill's formula, the state would receive eight percent of the betting take, less costs of operation. Local units of government where the track is located would get four percent of the take and the track where the race was run would get three percent.

The bill would make possible an initial six off-track betting agencies run by the state. Three of them probably would have been in the Detroit area.

Bets could be taken either at the agency or over the phone. The system would be run by computer.

The system would need a state appropriation to establish the central agency and the six branch offices, but after that it would be self-supporting. There was little debate before the vote indicating that most legislators had already made up their minds.

Meanwhile, several bills recently were signed into law by the governor. Included was one authorized corporate bank holding companies. Michigan had been one of only two states to prohibit corporate ownership of bank stock. This bill, which started in the senate, had been approved by the house only a few days before it was signed into law.

The new law is seen as a way to bring money into local communities. It would permit the resources of corporate bank holding companies to be used to increase the capital of local bank affiliates and increase administrative efficiency.

Get out and vote in school election

By BYRON K. ANTCLIFF, Superintendent, Huron School District

On Monday, June 14, voters of local area school districts go to the polls to cast ballots in the annual school elections which are held on the second Monday in June in third and fourth class schools districts.

In some cases voters will be asked to decide upon millage increases, millage renewals, or bond issues, in addition to electing board of education members. In most districts, however, it is likely that there will be only the question of the election of school board members on the ballot.

Historically, voter turnout in these situations has been light.

For example, in the last two years, the Huron School District candidates have been elected who have been received about five per cent of the vote of the total registered electors.

When you consider another large segment of our population is not registered to vote, you can see that approximately, one person out of twenty-five may in fact cast a ballot for an elected candidate.

It is difficult, at best, for an elected member to know just where he or she stands in regards to what the people wish of an elected candidate since so few have bothered to express their opinion in the election. Hopefully, each and every citizen will get registered, if not already, and then will cast a ballot in the annual election in June.

Another very important side of this situation, is the need for qualified individuals to seek election to the board of education.

In many school districts, board members will be elected without opposition. When one considers the very difficult nature of serving on the board of education today, this is not so difficult to understand. Board members must give a great deal of their personal time away from their families and usually receive only a little expense money which falls far short of covering their actual investment of dollars.

At the same time, board members, more than ever before are being subjected to great pressures by the public. Most of whom fail to express their opinion at the time board members were being elected.

It is understandable why anyone would hesitate to run for a board of education under those circumstances. However, more than ever in the history of our state are qualified candidates needed for board of education membership.

The decisions to be made by board of education in the next four years will be the most important made in the history of education. Hopefully, therefore, those rare individuals with a unique sense of dedication, helping to make their community a better place to live in and their educational program better for the young people of the area will seek and actively campaign for board of education positions this year.

Petitions and details concerning the filing of the petitions are available in local board of education offices and local citizens interested in running may obtain the necessary materials and information regarding those materials at the board office.

Hopefully, each citizen in every local school district will promise themselves that this year they will participate in one form or another in this very important matter.

Your children need your participation.

Another new law will permit the state, counties, cities and other local units of government to contract for the prevention of drug abuse and the treatment and counseling of drug victims. This creates a promising new weapon in the fight against drug abuse on the community level.

Still Another new public act allows a township board to construct and maintain sidewalks along main or arterial roads when public safety is involved.

The township board would have to put the levy to finance the sidewalks, which could not be more than one mill, before the voter.

A fourth new law permits candidates for elective office to pay a filing fee in lieu of nominating petitions at the same time as the deadline for petitions.

The old law required that filing fees be paid at least 72 hours before the deadline for nominating petitions.

All of these new laws are immediately effective.

Anonymous caller is pitied by reader

To the editor:

The hue and the cry of the Huron Township recall has died down but not so the anonymous caller who for the past several months has thrived on making harassing phone calls to Huron citizens. He certainly is to be pitied rather than scorned.

The gentleman who is guilty of this must be a very insecure and immature individual.

The background noises seem to indicate that these calls are being made from a bar, could it be that this gentleman is probably under the influence of alcohol and therefore needs this crutch to give him the courage to make these calls in which he threatens to beat up women?

I repeat he is to be pitied, and I can not help but wonder what this gentleman's own family would think of him if they could but see him in this light.

WRONG NUMBER

Initials of groups causing confusion

To the editor:

In the Feb. 22 issue of the Daily Eagle, there was a news article about a group called P.T.A. (People Taking Action Against Abortion). The article stated that "The group is not a membership organization, but an alliance of persons...."

We would agree, they are not a membership organization such as is the PTA. PTA are the initials for Parent-Teacher Association. The National PTA was founded in 1897. Its work is carried on by approximately 40,000 local PTA units who have over nine million members in the United States.

Again, PTA are initials for Parent-Teacher Association; whereas P.T.A. are the initials for People Taking Action Against Abortion. Come to think of it, shouldn't this alliance of persons have the initials P.T.A.A.A.?

Picnic tables redone

A Student Activities Group at South Junior High School, Belleville, is preparing for the warm weather by having picnic type tables placed in the courtyard nearest the cafeteria.

Arrangements are being made to allow students to use the courtyard and its facilities during the lunch period.

In preparation for this, Advisor Allan Charette engaged the services of industrial arts instructor Joseph Stachnik, and some of his students to refinish three of the tables which had been at the school and to assemble two more tables.

These tables had been purchased some time previously with funds raised by student councils of past years.

The student activities group is now completing a candy sale which has been underway for two weeks.

Studded tires out on May 1

Studded tires must be removed by May 1 from motor vehicles traveling Michigan Highways, the Department of State Highways reminded motorists Monday.

Tires equipped with metal studs are legal in Michigan between Nov. 1 and May 1. However, the State Highway Commission has called on the legislature to repeal the studded tire law enacted in 1967.

The commission said the tires are causing heavy damage to highways, which will require extensive repairs within a few years unless studs are banned.

The tires wear into the pavement surface and rapidly rub out lane marking and skid-resistant materials applied at high-accident intersections, the commission said.

The decision to ask for repeal also was based on research by the Cornell

Aeronautical Laboratory in Buffalo, N.Y. It showed on both wet and dry pavement stopping distances are less for vehicles equipped with standard tires than those having studded tires. The studded tires are more effective on ice-covered highways but that condition prevails only a small percentage of the winter, the commission said.

Studded tires will be permanently banned in the neighboring Canadian province of Ontario starting May 1.

Resource center expanding

To handle increased demand by educators in Wayne County's 387 local school districts, including Detroit's eight new regional districts, the Intermediate School District is expanding its Resource Center Services.

Starting this week, the Professional Resource Center at 33030 Van Born Road, Wayne, will offer additional hours of service on Mondays. New hours on Mondays will be 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Regular hours (8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.) will continue to be observed Tuesdays through Fridays.

A.S.K. (Assistance with School Knowledge), an informational resource service providing current data on school practices, programs, and research, is being given new, broader vistas in conjunction with PRC expansion plans.

To combat inflationary trends, the Resource Center is happy to announce a "cutback" in cost of materials, which is all you ever pay for at the Center.

A quick phone call (274-9010 or 729-1770) will answer your specific educational problems on Mondays from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Tuesdays through Fridays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The winning team in the local contest will be sent to Indianapolis in June to compete against other top Trouble Shooters from all parts of the country in the National Championship Finals.

Contestants are competing for more than $125,000 worth of scholarships and awards.

DRIVE director earns plaque for service

Officers and members of the Down River Association for Retarded Children applauded the presentation of the plaque to Howard Dahlka, Director of the DRIVE (Down River Industrial Vocational Enterprises) Workshop, at the May membership meet.

The award commended Dahlka for his diligent and untiring performance as director since the workshop's opening April 7, 1969.

The workshop employs 40 adult retarded and is owned and operated by the Down River Association for Retarded Children. It offers services to industries such as packaging, sorting, stuffing and stamping envelopes, correlating, minor assembling, re-threading, and re-labeling.

Dahlka stated it is his firm conviction that retarded adults can be helped to develop their abilities far more than is commonly believed, perform useful services and are often employed at various jobs performed by the ordinary person.

Dahlka also stated that through a survey, that by 1975 the workshop attendance will increase from the present 40 workers to approximately 100.

Expansion of the present facilities is being considered by the Association.

Also recognized for their involvement with retarded children, the Down River Youth Association for Retarded Children presents monthly dances and recently held a formal dance for retarded children fifteen years of age and older.

The youth group consists of high school students from most of the Down River communities and has been active for over two years.

Miss Lynn McKiever, current president, said the most notable thing was the adult behavior of those attending the formal dance. Drive was formed in 1953 by parents who opened a day care center known as the Ray Battle Training Center, which was operated until special education programs under the Board of Education was started in 1967.

The DRIVE workshop became a reality through efforts of parents of the adult retardee when services or programs for those over 21 years of age came to an end.

The jobs performed at the workshop are not charity or welfare, but services needed by various industries; thus the adult retardee is a useful citizen performing a useful and necessary service.

A number of relatives helped Kerry Krueger celebrate his ninth birthday Saturday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Krueger, Jr. on Romaine St. Birthday cake and other refreshments were enjoyed.

Local folks wishing more information of the Romulus pre-school nursery, sponsored by the Western Wayne County YWCA with the help of the Romulus Board of Education, and the cooperation of the Continuing Education Committee, are invited to call Mrs. Jeannie Ursery (728-5045).

The nursery's main purpose, since its opening in October, 1969, is to offer pre-school experience to children who do not qualify for Federally funded Head Start Programs. Children may be enrolled immediately.

Registrars visit students

Three deputy vote registrars from Romulus attended the government class at Romulus Senior High School recently.

Students of the high school's government class were visited by Mrs. Diane Bogie, Mrs. Rebekah Ann Bean and David DeLozier to explain the voting procedures and elections.

The registrars then registered all the 18 year-olds. Approximately 150 students were registered to vote in federal elections.

Deputy Clerk Mrs. Deana Lovenduski reported that the 18-year-old voting registration totals 229 so far.

Ford lauds public works approval Club arranges rummage sale

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) praised the action of the House of Representatives Thursday in approving a $5.5 billion economic development program which includes a $2 billion accelerated public works program to help fight unemployment.

The bill was approved 319 to 67, after House Democrats defeated a Republican attempt to eliminate the public works section.

In a statement opposing the Republican amendment to water down the legislation, Congressman Ford called upon his colleagues in the House to "supply the leadership to provide realistic and meaningful remedies for the ills of this country, while the Nixon Administration provides speakers to tour the country talking about them."

The legislation would authorize $2 billion to help local communities develop and carry out needed public works programs, thus helping to create jobs in the construction industry.

Funds would be provided for such projects as waste-treatment plants, health-care facilities, street repairs, water supply and sewer systems, public buildings and recreational facilities.

Congressman Ford declared in his speech: "This bill will provide relief to the many communities throughout the country which are presently suffering from unemployment and economic distress by creating desperately needed jobs. In addition to providing immediate 'useful employment' for unemployed Americans, these amendments would also make it possible for local areas to build municipal buildings and other public facilities without overburdening their own local tax bases."

Pointing out that the need for jobs has never been more urgent, Congressman Ford said that more than a third of the nation's 150 major labor areas are suffering from "substantial unemployment"—defined by the Labor Department as 6 per cent or more. The national rate has been 6 per cent or more for three of the last four months, he noted.

and optimistic attitude, during the past year unemployment in Michigan has been increasing at the rate of approximately 25 per cent from 6.7 per cent in February, 1970, to 8.4 per cent in February, 1971."

Republicans sought to kill the public works plan on the grounds that President Nixon would veto it. Congressman Ford declared that, should this happen, the Congress should override such a veto "promptly and firmly" in the interest of the national economy and the growing unemployment crisis.

The sale is one of the April events held at the club's temporary headquarters set up across from the Hamilton Hardware Store on Main St.

The nursery was also remembered by Miss Carol Morris, a secretary for Chope Stevens Paper Company, located in Detroit.

Inspectors of the Michigan Department of Agriculture are trained to protect public food supplies in the event of tornadoes, floods, and other disasters.

"For more than 15 years, our inspectors have been specially trained in civil defense procedures," said B. Dale Ball, department director.

"When any kind of disaster occurs, the department works closely with State Police and other law enforcement agencies. Our Food Inspection division maintains an up-to-date list of food sources so that needed supplies can be rushed to any disaster area where there may be contamination of local food stuffs."

Most dramatic form of contamination is from radioactive fallout which could occur after an atomic attack. But a more common cause would be spoilage of

Scout fathers to clash in Pinewood derby

Cub Scout fathers of Pack 830 of the Hayti Elementary School area have been challenged to a show-down Pinewood Derby by the fathers of Cub Pack 735, of the Cory Elementary school area.

The challenge was accepted by pack 830's fathers at their meeting last week. The two groups are to get together to work out final details, it was reported.

National Guard converging

Each year of scouting activity is highlighted by the Pinewood Derby or a sailing regatta, either event a traditionally father and son pack event, governed by certain rules and regulations.

Because competition is always high and many fathers and not a few sons, feel they might have done better if it were not a joint project, it was decided to hold an all dads event.

The Cory group has proposed a "no holds barred" type of contest, with the only restriction being that all cars be made from the official kit.

Details will be worked out at the next committee meeting of Pack 735, tomorrow (Thursday).

Date and rules of the contest will be announced later.

National Guardsmen from the entire state are expected to converge on the Grand Valley Armory, Wyoming, Michigan, Saturday, May 1 to attend the 15th Annual National Guard Association of Michigan Convention.

Lt. Col. Milo C. Thompson, president, announced that Maj. Gen. Francis S. Greenleaf, deputy chief, National Guard Bureau, Washington, D.C., would address Guardsmen on the effect that recently proposed legislation would have on Michigan Guard units.

A highlight of the convention, Thompson noted, will be the installation of new officers. Colonel Nathaniel Wicks of Detroit will assume the presidency of the Association representing over 12,000 Michigan Guardsmen.

Wind Ensemble going overseas

A six-week tour of Germany, Denmark, Finland and Russia is on the agenda for fifty Michigan and Ohio high school students who are members of the 1971 Youth for Understanding Wind Ensemble.

They will present concerts in schools, churches, and on radio and television during the tour. It is the first annual tour for the organization, which was newly formed last October to conductor Victor Bordo of the Ann Arbor Pioneer High School Music Department.

A highlight of the tour will be a concert by the YFU Wind Ensemble in Ann Arbor's sister city, Tuebingen, Germany. The concert will be performed on July 2, which has been officially declared "Ann Arbor Day" by Tuebingen.

The Wind Ensemble members including 38 Ann Arbor area students and Eileen Heath of Belleville, have been rehearsing all winter, and will give several pre-tour concerts in Michigan before leaving for Europe.

On Saturday, May 5, the Ensemble will appear at Michigan Center High School in Jackson, Mich., then on Sunday, May 23, Allegan High School in Allegan, Mich., will host the Ensemble. Mid-June concerts are planned for Midland and Saginaw.

An important part of the Youth for Understanding cultural and educational exchange, the Wind Ensemble program is designed to develop understanding and friendship between countries through the universal language of music.

It gives talented young musicians an opportunity to perform with an excellent Ensemble, gaining valuable training and experience. Attention is focused on American composers and on the quality of performance for which public school music programs prepare U.S. students.

The concert tour is a community-family centered experience, with the local YFU committees in overseas countries arranging performance schedules and providing for hospitality. During the tour, Ensemble members will live with host families in the countries they visit.

In order to meet qualifications for the Wind Ensemble, the students had to pass auditions held last October. They also had to qualify as international exchange students in addition to being recommended by their high school band director.

Bordo, who has been rehearsing the Wind Ensemble and will conduct it on tour, is a native of Detroit. He is Director of Bands at Ann Arbor Pioneer High, and has taught in Michigan schools for fifteen years. His musical training was at Wayne State University and the University of Michigan.

Associate Conductor of the Wind Ensemble is Greg Heuer, of Belleville, band director at Belleville High School, whose wife, Linda, will appear as piano soloist on tour.

Youth for Understanding is an international teen-age student exchange headquartered in Ann Arbor. This year it celebrates two decades of service to increase understanding between the peoples of all nations.

The heart of the YFU exchange philosophy is the family living experience, which provides a stable home environment for the teenage student living in another country.

In addition to sending American young people abroad, teenagers from all over the world are brought to live in the U.S. to participate in the life of a family and community.

Youth for Understanding cooperates with the U.S. Department of State, and its Executive Director, Dr. Rachel Andersen, was recently commended by President Nixon for the program's contribution to international good will.

Spring fair successful

A very successful spring fair was reported by the Romulus Elementary School PTA.

The event, held last Saturday, (April 24) was the first of a series of carnivals and fairs to be presented by local PTA units throughout the district.

Mrs. Marjory Butler, PTA president, also served as coordinator for the affair, having arranged for workers at the various booths games and concessions.

Among the things to buy were bird houses made by the scouts, art objects prepared by the schools Art Club, marigolds and petunias ready for planting, and an outstanding array of handcrafted items including pillows, aprons, knitted hat and scarf sets, and baby items.

Mrs. Linda Visnaw, armed with a soldering iron and colored glass drops was turning out leaded pendants, another classroom was converted to a silhouette booth. Cakes, cookies, candies and sweet breads were also available.

A schedule of special events started off with a performance of the Elementary School Honors Band, sponsored by the city recreation commission and conducted by Mrs. Sue Scofield. They

TINY CATHY JOHNSON, she with the G-R-E-A-T BIG wonderful voice, began a two-week engagement at the 24-KARAT CLUB, 16890 N. Telegraph, at 6 Mi. Rd., last Monday...and she's playing to a full house! Now considered one of the most important Vocalists both here and abroad, Cathy will cut a record while in the area, with the backing of Club Owner Harold Wiggle, who KNOWS what's good, and says Cathy is absolutely the best!!! In front of us, a faraway London review, reading much the same! Ahead of us, an evening of really wild rhythm, as Cathy is accompanied by Bob Monti, a great Artist in his own right who, of course, will Solo, also, DON'T MISS THIS GAL if there's any way in the world you can make it this week or next. The Joe Vitale Quartet is on hand every dancing night of the week, so you can do some cuttin' up of your own on the dance floor. Harry Harris is there for that nostalgic touch that makes a special evening even more so...you'll NEVER forget an evening at the 24-K! Mr. & Mrs. Lee Jagers spotted us there this week...and THEY bought a round. They were that pleased we told 'em about the club! Reservations if you wish, can be had by calling 538-4455.

MARGIE GARTZ DIDN'T, get over to The Golden Coin last week...but a Kangaroo did drop in! He went straight up to the bar and ordered a lemonade. When it was served, however, he seemed displeased. "Where's the cherry?" he demanded. "Strange, isn't it?" one of the other patrons whispered to Bartender-Bob. "Yes," spoke the dauntless man. "It's the 1st time in years I forgot to put a cherry in a lemonade!" And if you think that isn't true...g'wan over to THE GOLDEN COIN (it's at 1870 S. Wayne Rd., in Westland) and order a lemonade!! Or if you like cherries even more than you do Kangaroos, order our favorite: a Cherry Kirnova. O.R., if you're hungry and thirsty both...put the whole thing together with a Branded Ham Dinner. Comes with the very same type Cherries they serve Kangaroos. The variety of possibilities at The Coin is as endless as the variety of Customers. Margie, Wilma, Kangaroos... "Kathy the Lioness", and a guy, who's willing to pick up the tab for your lemonade if you recognize him. AND there's a Golden Goddess, (you can just call her "Lou", waiting to pay $10.00 to s-o-m-e-b-o-d-y, for another Golden Coin. Ask her about it. (And have her introduce you to Cap Patric. He's the guy in the Kangaroo suit!)

PEOPLE TRAVELING DOWN FORD RD., in the area of TOPP'S had long wished for a traffic light at Wildwood St...but they got even more than they had ever hoped for when VICTOR'S appeared at 34410 Ford Rd.!! With 24-hour service and a tremendous parking capacity, it was a natural for Shoppers. Again, it was even more, as the Menu featured things that made a natural for Moms (Kiddie Corner Menus) a natural for Weight Watchers (Weight-Watchers' S.A., in Mexico, for such Luncheon!), a natural for early-morning workers with sleepy Wives (Steak 'n Eggs for Breakfast!), and even a natural for our fluctuating weather-vane existence, hereabouts, with a variety of Hot Soups and Crackers for cold days; all kinds of Salads for hot days! Owner Vic Raviolo has taken everything that is important to a successful eatery into consideration! With the location so simple to reach, with the experience of thousands of meals behind him, with the entire City buzzing about his fresh fruit pies, and with a strict policy of Family Dining in a VERY clean and pleasant atmosphere...it's "naturally" the place to get acquainted with. (Didn't I just tell you that?)

OUT ON THE TOWN we went...bent on "something different". Now you can't find different-er, or BETTER, nor (most important!) f-r-e-e-s-h-er than PICO'S TACOS, at 8875 N. Telegraph, in Dearborn! EACH and EVERY ingredient in everything they serve, is picked for its excellency, down to the smallest touch. You don't just get a "hot pepper", for instance. What you are served with is "Chiles Jalapenos en Escabeche", small green very special chili pods in sesame oil, enhanced with vinegar, salt, garlic, onion and mystic spices, packed by world renowned Clemente Jacques Y Cia, in Mexico, for such particular people as Pico's and their Guests! Which is only a PART of what makes this f-r-e-e different and better than any over-the-counter spot we've ever visited. So it isn't too far out, on the town, to get something that's different because of it's individuality. AND because of it's price! Pico's is as great for the pocketbook...as it is for the Gourmet!!

UNDERNEATH THE "IRON MASK" lies a heart bent on pleasing one's fellow men. There's a friendly smile, a welcoming hand...a choice bit of entertainment...and a delicious meal in store for the visitor. The decor is early English...the intent is relax and be comfortable n-o-w! Faces you know have a way of turning up there, all the time. And if we miss a couple...they even drop a note and tell us they were in! From Mr. & Mrs. Steve Walker, a recommendation for the Prime Filet, with a skillet of Sautéed Mushrooms, with a platter of golden brown Onion Rings, with the courtesy of the English decor! From Betty Miller, a note saying she was there, and a funny (if you can use it if you wish!), "What would you take for your stomach?" "I dunno, Whatever you order!" Of course, adds Betty, she gave up some tummy jokes, once she lunched at The Iron Mask! From Diane Martina, whose slogan is "It costs no more to have the very best!", the additional recommendation of a Lady who knows value. THE IRON MASK is at 28940 Joy Rd. and listen...don't forget to write. (They save our mail for us!)

AND THERE ARE THOSE who like to relax a bit when they come home...or start the evening off with a kinda "appetizer"...or end it with the feet-up, slippers-on, something-easy while you watch the late news type of beverage, right? And these are the ones who know about COLT-45, made by National Breweries...and enjoyed NATIONALLY!! All the nice people in all the nice places we talk about, will serve it to you. They keep these great goodies on hand. But it's just nice to keep in the refrigerator...for those in-between and just-in-case times! You can ask for it at your favorite Pub...or at your favorite Package or Party Store! What could be nicer? G'wan, get on your horse and go for the Colt! Because if you don't ALWAYS find the bright side...it sure helps ya polish up the dull!!

Pat Paulsen slated for Schoolcraft show

Stand-up comedian Pat Paulsen, the TV funny man who became one of the people's choices for president in 1968 via the Smothers Brothers Show, is expected to make an important announcement in this regard when he appears at Schoolcraft College May 8.

Paulsen will appear in the Schoolcraft gymnasium sponsored by the Student Activity Board (SAB). Tickets are priced at $4 and are available from the Student Activities Office — which will accept mail orders until May 4 — and at the Village Green in the Wonderland Shopping Center.

Arrangements are also being made for tickets to be available from Grinnell's at the Livonia Mall Shopping Center.

Paulsen is expected to draw a capacity audience. He's a past-master at deadpan stuff such as "I would like to make it perfectly clear that there is no truth to the rumor that I'm running for president of the United States. There will be a meeting of my campaign workers and staff at 3 p.m. in my hotel suite."

If too many cooks spoil one broth imagine what one cook can do to too many broths as witness some of Jerry Lewis' efforts. Nevertheless, the tradition of participating in several facets of production, such as writing, direction and acting, is an old and honorable one and - when a Chaplin tries it - it becomes a practice with which you quarrel not.

In the case of Elaine May, who has written directed and, with Walter Matthau, starred in "A New Leaf," there is no need to quarrel either. The result is the essence of human comedy and Miss May's ear, which was remarkably acute in the days when she and Mike Nichols were turning out those inventive skits, is as good as ever.

Elaine May does three jobs well in 'New Leaf'

Paramount Pictures presents a Howard W. Koch-Hillard Elkins production, "A New Leaf," written and directed by Elaine May from Jack Ritchie's short story "The Green Heart," produced by Joe Manduke. Movielab color. Rated G. At the Mai Kai with the following cast: Walter Matthau, Elaine May, Jack Jeston, George Rose, James Coco, William Redfield.

seem to make her a better candidate for murder than for marriage but Graham has both in mind, despite the efforts of several enemies to prevent it, including James Coco, his spiteful, gluttonous uncle who holds a usurious note on Graham and would like to collect.

Then there are the lawyers, Graham's - William Redfield, who has put up with Graham's total unawareness of the limitations of money to the point of distraction - and Henrietta's - Jack Weston, who is bleeding her white and doesn't want to stop. Only George Rose, Graham's valet, is rooting for him; he doesn't want to look for a new job.

If "A New Leaf" has a flaw, it is in the character of Graham, so cold, ego-ridden and selfish it becomes almost impossible to accept a happy ending for him, even if one is needed for Henrietta. The serviceable but predictable climax comes on a field trip on which Graham plans to kill his wife.

But by this point, you've laughed enough to satisfy anyone.

America's hunger a challenge

Americans are a hungry lot! Someone has figured that the average American during his lifetime eats 150 cows, 24,000 chickens, 225 lambs, 26 sheep, 310 hogs, 26 acres of grain and 50 acres of fruit and vegetables. And he also uses 9,450 quarts of milk.

American agriculture's efficiency has made it all possible. A tremendous producer, American agriculture also is a huge consumer of manufactured goods and services.

It is little wonder that nearly a million youngsters between the ages of 9 and 19 find the 4-H agricultural program interesting and exciting.

The program is sponsored by International Harvester Company. The company is one of the oldest active supporters of 4-H, this year commemorating its 52nd anniversary as a contributor to the 4-H program.

The 4-H agricultural program, according to the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H activities, includes a wide range of projects from automotive to livestock and tractor to veterinary science.

Farming the fertile acres of

Boat launch facilities open at several parks

Boat launching facilities of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks are now open at Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens, Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica and Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford.

Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens has launching ramps that will accommodate up to eight boats. The ramps, which are located along the Black Creek, are open daily to dusk and provide access to Lake St. Clair. Adequate parking is provided at the ramp site or in the large 6,000 car parking lot for boat trailers and cars.

There is no charge for boat launching in the spring and fall. However, there is a 50-cent launching fee, plus the usual 50 cent parking charge from Saturday, May 29th, through Labor Day.

Stony Creek Metropolitan Park, north of Utica, has ramps that permit up to 10 launchings simultaneously and provides parking space for 150 cars and boat trailers. The ramps are located at the south end of Stony Creek Lake within the 3,500-acre park. Boating permits are available at the park office without charge for the 1971 season. There is a 10 mile per hour speed limit on the lake and no water skiing is permitted. The building at the site has restrooms, lounge area and vending machines for food service.

The park office and entrance are located 2 miles west of the junction of the M-53 freeway and 26 Mile Road, six miles north of Utica. For additional information, persons may phone 781-4242 (Washington Exchange).

Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford has now opened its two boat launching sites. The 1,200-acre Kent Lake in the park is one of the most popular fishing and boating areas in southeastern Michigan. Crappies, bluegills, bass and panfish inhabit the lake.

Six boats may be launched at one time from the East Launching Site, where there is space for 60 cars and trailers and additional parking for cars only. The West Launching Site has space for 125 cars and trailers, with 6 to 8 launchings available at one time at the 120-foot ramp.

There is no charge for launching, however, launching permits, which are good for the 1971 season, are required and are available at the park office. There is a 10 mile per hour speed limit on Kent Lake and no water skiing is permitted. Launching hours start at sunrise to 10 p.m. and the park closes at 11:00 p.m.

Trailers, cars and boats are not permitted to remain overnight in Kensington Metropolitan Park, except for boats in slip rental spaces.

There are two park entrances along the I-96 (Grand River) Freeway between Milford and Brighton. For additional information, persons should phone the park office, 685-1561 (Milford).

Bell hearings set

Public hearing on Michigan Bell Telephone Company's request for a $59.7 million rate increase will start May 26.

The Public Service Commission of the Michigan Department of Commerce said the hearings will open in Detroit and then will shift to Lansing on June 14.

The May 26 hearing will be held starting at 9:30 a.m. in the auditorium on the 13th Floor of the City-County Building. The hearings on June 14 and thereafter will be in the PSC's Lansing offices.

Michigan Bell filed an application for an unspecified rate increase last Dec. 10. The company filed its testimony and exhibits with the commission on March 16 indicating it wants authority to increase its rates by $59.7 million annually.

At the same time, the utility asked the PSC to allow it to increase its rates by $19.9 million immediately pending a final decision on its rate case. Michigan Bell said its rate of return has dropped below the level authorized by the Commission last year.

The PSC said it will set a date later for a hearing on Michigan Bell's motion for a partial rate increase.

Speaker to address Matrons

During a planning meeting it was decided to have a physician or psychologist speak to them on Thursday, May 6.

Subsequent meetings will be planned for a new group of craft projects.

All women interested in attending are welcome.

Help grass recover from winter

When the first signs of spring appear, most homeowners are drawn from the budding tulips and other early bulbs to the lawn grass bordering the flower beds.

Winter can leave some ugly scars on lawns and while Mother Nature does a remarkable job of repairing winter damage to her favorite ground cover, there are some things you can do to help the cause.

Grass breathes during the winter months even in its dormant stage, so if ice has covered the lawn for any extended period of time, there can be problems of survival for the grass plants. Many plants may survive, but leave the lawn with a scummy appearance. Hard freeze without snow cover can be another plant-robbing act of nature requiring a great deal of time for the grass plants to recover.

With grass plants weakened or destroyed, weed seeds carried by the wind find plenty of room to germinate and take root adding more problems for the homeowner. A thick lawn is the best deterrent to weeds, however, dandelions and other wind carried seeds seem to make a starting place in even the best of lawns. Fortunately, they are easy to kill with broadleaf weed killers.

The best all-around combination treatment for springtime is overseeding with a good quality grass seed and fertilization. Unless you have your soil tested, it is recommended you use a balanced fertilizer. This is relatively even portions of nitrogen, phosphate and potash.

Most store packaged fertilizer will be slightly higher in nitrogen than the other two ingredients. Nitrogen causes more rapid growth and gives the grass a dark green color.

Before overseeding, the lawn should be renovated with a machine, which can be rented at nominal cost, or thoroughly raked to remove thatch, resulting from dead grass plants. After overseeding, the lawn should be lightly raked to cover the seed and kept moist until the seed is well germinated.

One caution...use a top quality grass seed preferably with a high percentage of the fine fescues and bluegrass seed. Both blend well with any northern grass lawn and provide that dark green straight growing type of grass preferred by most homeowners. Many cheap grass seed mixes have a percentage of broadleaved grasses which cause unsightly patches in the lawn and are difficult to eradicate.

Grass seed packets sold in most stores are required to have the type of grasses, percentage of each type of grass seed in the mixture and the germination test on the package. This is consumer protection against the possibility of purchasing seed which would not provide a fine textured lawn.

The consumer must be aware of the broadleaved grasses which would not fit into his lawn program. The pasture or broadleaved tough grasses are often used for heavy use areas, such as playgrounds or parks, but they do not have the desirable characteristics sought by homeowners.

Poster makers win free tickets for fair

Fifth and sixth grade boys and girls at Cory Elementary School competed in a poster contest last week.

The contest, sponsored by Cory's PTA, was to begin advertising their Carousell event slated for Saturday, May 15.

Carousell was the theme selected for a fair that will raise funds for use in the kindergarten areas of the school. Funds from last year's fiesta went to build a school in Peru through a joint effort with the Peace Corps.

Fifth prize winner was Kathleen Milton who was awarded $4 worth of fair tickets, good for any fair events. Second place honors went to a team: Kathy Williams and Edna Badia earned $3. worth of fair tickets. Third prize of $2.50 worth of tickets went to Cheryl Common and Steven Sims. Aaron Chandler won fifth prize of $2 worth of tickets.

Honorable mention which earned the winners free cokes and sandwiches at the fair went to Lisa Oakley and Corina Liendo, Ellen Langowski and Rhonda Tugman, Annette Young and Kevin Moore, Dawn Cole and Lorri Morgan.

The entry selected as "most original" was prepared by Nell Walker and Nancy Niewiarowicz.

Winning posters will be on display at the school, all others will be placed prominently throughout the city.

Attendance rewarded at Kiwanis meeting

Clark, 16 years; Ed Stoelton and Tom Hopka, 14 years; Gerry Miller and Art Hill, 13 years; Manley Baldwin, 11 years; Kenneth Daniels and Don Meyer, nine years; Don White, eight years; Clyde Stapleton, six years; Bert Smith, five years;

Judges for the contest were; fair chairman, Mrs. Carole Rodd, student teacher, Mrs. Frances Bacon, Area PTA president, Mrs. Fran Petre and Cory art teacher, Mrs. Cheryl Huff.

Ed Hudge and Tom Troxwell, four years; Jim Fitch and Al Fred Morton, two years; and Bill Hudge and Dick Bode, one year.

Atchinson, himself, topped the list with perfect attendance for 28 years.

Time to check emblems

Spring is a good time for farmers and others to check SMV (slow moving vehicle) emblems to make sure they are clean, bright and properly displayed, says a Michigan State University safety engineer.

"After washing, apply a little auto wax," suggests Richard Pfister. "This not only shines the emblem and keeps it clean longer, it also makes it easier to remove mud and dirt."

If the emblem's fluorescent orange center has faded to yellow, replace it, he adds. Replacement centers are available in some locations.

The number of rear-end collisions involving farm machinery on Michigan public roads rose from 50 in 1968 to 52 in 1969. In 1970 it leaped to 65.

"This is still far below the 90 to 95 accidents which occurred prior to use of SMV emblems, but there is need for improvement," Pfister cautions. "A little maintenance could keep you from becoming another statistic."

Carnival coming

The Denton Elementary School Parent-Teachers Organization (PTO) is sponsoring a school carnival from 7 to 10 p.m. on April 30.

Eleven games with prizes, a film theatre, an animal walk, a spook house, a white elephant sale, food, drinks and I.D. trinkets will be available.

Approximately twenty door prizes have been offered by local merchants for the event and over 90 parents, teachers and students will be directly involved with making the carnival a success.

The Denton PTO offers a warm welcome to everyone.

Army Private First Class William C. Wellday, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Wellday, 44274 Robson, recently received the combat infantryman badge while serving with the americal division in Vietnam.

The badge is a unique and cherished award that is highly coveted by its recipients. The award was originated during World War II to recognize the role of the infantryman. The CIB can be awarded only to a member of an infantry unit of brigade, regimental or smaller size unit who satisfactorily performed in active ground combat against a hostile force for a period of time.

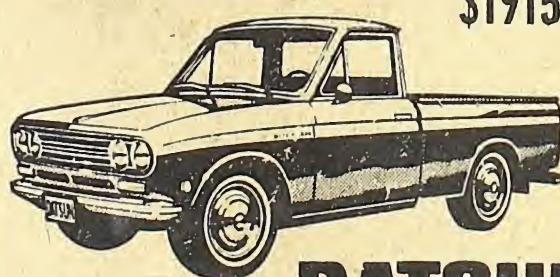

In honor of its singular meaning, the badge is worn above all other awards and decorations, over the left breast. It is a blue rectangle with a silver rifle mounted on it, superimposed over a curved wreath. Subsequent awards are represented by stars at the top center of the wreath.

Pfc. Wellday received the award while assigned as a rifleman in company D, 1st Battalion, 20th Infantry of the Division's 198th Infantry Brigade near DucPho.

The Truth Hurts...But

The Salesman that sold us this group was a better Salesman than those we have at our store. We just bought too many of these sofa and Mr. & Mrs. chair sets. Herculan materials make them a real value, but we just had too many of them. 4 sets left that sold for $600.00; be a smart buyer for just $388.00

The Truth Hurts...But

Early American in this small size sofa and chair was just too small looking. It really isn't that small, (78") but some how it gives that appearance. The sofa and chair are covered in Brown nylon. A real custom sofa. You'll know it when you see it. It sold for $499.00, do us a favor and we'll deliver a set to you for just

$288.00

The Truth Hurts...But

This round walnut table and 4 matching chairs has just been around too long. The grouping originally sold for $329.95, but this last one has got to go. The table too; is a formica top and has a leaf, you simply can't miss at this price of only

$139.90

The Truth Hurts...But

This modern Bassett bedroom set is one of the biggest sellers in their entire line throughout the nation, but we've got 2 sets left that just don't want to leave our store. Maybe if you save $150.00 off of its $449.95 regular price you'll like it better. It's now just

$298.00

The Truth Hurts...But

We're willing to ease the pain on this $99.95 recliner in olive green. Nobody seemed, to like the dull finish of this chair, and we out smarted ourselves when we bought it, but it won't hurt you a bit at $48.00

The Truth Hurts...But

A spanish console 42" long just wasn't the biggest selling thing around. We had three of them, at $199.95 and only sold one. So how about making our pain a little less by buying the two that are left for

$78.88

The Truth Hurts...But

Who'd want's a white sofa? We thought that a white traditional sofa would make such an elegant setting, but it seems that our customers have kids, and just wouldn't think of using white. Just another one of our goofs. Help me make this one backfire and buy this $299.95 Sofa for $148.88

The Truth Hurts...But

I just don't need an odd walnut buffet. It's well styled, made well, but we didn't think the factory would discontinue the group as fast as they did. Originally sold for $159.95. Do us a favor, and we'll deliver it to you for $88.88

The Truth Hurts...But

Sometimes you just overdo a good thing. We bought a dozen of these Mr. & Mrs. chair sets, covered in Herculan and sold them. But we've got one set left in Blue Stripe, that just stays around. The pair sold for $260.00. We'll scream "OUCH", but you can howl with delight at just $128.00

The Truth Hurts...But

Royal Blue just isn't the biggest seller in sofas. It seems that our buyer likes this color, but not too many of our customers do. We've got one left in a nylon texture and modern styling. All the other colors went at $269.95. Take the sting away on this one at $148.00

The Truth Hurts...But

This modern Walnut bedroom set doesn't sell. We thought that people still wanted an inexpensive bedroom with clean straight lines, the danish look; but were we mistaken on this one. It was inexpensively priced at $269.95, but it's not selling. Do us a favor take the complete triple dresser set for just

$168.88

The Truth Hurts...But

We just don't have as many walls as we have pictures and wall accessories, and we would like to have you help us move them out. Pick up the pieces you want. Make your own arrangements at a fraction of their original price, as much as 60 per cent off.

The Truth Hurts...But

This round walnut table and 4 matching chairs has just been around too long. The grouping originally sold for $329.95, but this last one has got to go. The table too; is a formica top and has a leaf, you simply can't miss at this price of only

$298.00

The Truth Hurts...But

$670.00 evidently is too much money for this sofa and chair by Howard Parlor. It's two toned in gold. Solid gold on the outside and gold stripes on the insides, with reversible back and seat cushions. It's a custom set of furniture that you'll especially love at this price of

$443.00

The Truth Hurts...But

This loose pillow back sofa just isn't selling for the price it was supposed to. $359.95 was a good price, and it should of sold at that price. It's a gold brocade material and elegant to look at. Be a hero to us and a smart shopper to your family. You can show this one off and brag too at

$188.00

The Truth Hurts...But

It's some times very difficult to tell the truth. Especially if it costs money, and boy does this one cost us. We bought this group off a picture, and haven't liked it from the day we received it. We've got 3 groups of sofa and Mr. & Mrs. chair that are supposed to sell for $650.00. I'll smile again if I just get rid of them so I don't have to keep looking at this goof. Only.

$388.00

The Truth Hurts...But

We've got too many one only dining room sets left. And no better time to get rid of them than right now. Here is $750.00 dollars worth of dining room which includes a buffet, server, table and 4 chairs. Mediterranean styled and give away priced at just

$388.00

The Truth Hurts...But

This modern sofa and chair needs a home and if you're trying to keep the price down and still have a nice looking living room, try this one. It's covered in an old gold tweed with picture frame styling. It sold well at $319.95 for the set. But this last one lingers on. Take it home, or we'll deliver it for just

$178.88

The Truth Hurts...But

Twelve of these Spanish sofas were too many. Ten would have been enough. We've got 2 left, both in gold. They sold for $299.95. Do us a favor, and yourself too. We'll deliver them to you at your convenience for just.

$168.00

The Truth Hurts...But

Nothing hurts a furniture store as much as a discontinued item or group. It always leaves you with odd pieces that take up a lot of room. We've got 2 white French Provincial desks left that sold for $99.95. Would you like one? The price-real easy.

$59.00

The Truth Hurts...But

It's real rough when a factory helps you make mistakes. We ordered 6 of these, Tuxedo Sofas, and the factory shipped 12. They're supposed to sell for $269.95 and we sold 5 of them at that price. But now we've got 7 left. Help us get rid of them at $177.00

The Truth Hurts...But

These one only items take up so much space and time to display them, that it is almost impossible to do a proper job with them. We've got a big pecan finish Mediterranean buffet that was $269.95, take it away for $139.99 and the closed Hutch top that sets on it for a real silly price of

$79.00

The Truth Hurts...But

A special order Spanish bedroom set that was lost in transit for so long that the customer finally changed to another set. It's here now, $600.00 worth of beautiful oak in a big triple dresser, mirror, big chest and headboard. Take it off our hands for a little price of just

$358.88

The Truth Hurts...But

We always manage to accumulate a lot of chairs that have been discontinued. Maybe it's because we sell so many of them that we don't realize when the factory discontinues these styles. Anyways we'll put 30 chairs that sold for up to $129.95 on sale for this selling at just one price of $50.00

The Truth Hurts...But

Red just wasn't the best color. We've got two "campaign" style bookcases left in red only. They were originally priced at $89.95 each, but we couldn't sell them. Then we marked them down to $59.00, but no dice. Maybe, you'll take them off our hands at this absurd price of

$45.00

Commission hearing on amendment set

The State Civil Service Commission will hold a hearing May 21 on a proposed amendment to its employee relations policy which would restrict activity of top administrators in employee organizations.

The current employee relations policy of the Commission guarantees all classified employees the right to join "and to actively participate" in employee organizations of their choice. Since principal departments are limited by the State Constitution to five unclassified positions exempt from civil service, many top administrators are career classified employees.

Commission Chairman Ernest L. Brown, Jr. of Detroit said some principal state departments expressed their findings of conflict of interest between the duties of their executives and active participation in employee organizations.

An amendment permitting department heads to

Unlawful billboards plaguing state officials

Illegal billboards are going up along Michigan's Interstate freeways about three times as fast as the state is able to take them down, State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth reported Monday.

The department of state highways, working with the Attorney General's office, removed about 60 illegal billboards last year along three stretches of Interstate freeway in Ingham, Livingston, Oakland, Calhoun and Branch counties.

A recently completed Highway Department survey, Stafseth said, showed that 364 signs were erected during the last year along the 948 miles of Interstate freeways in Michigan. About half are in illegal positions, he said.

The department expects to move this year against illegal signs along several stretches of Interstate freeway, Stafseth said. However, he added, observations by highway foresters and maintenance men indicate that many more new signs are going up than the Department will be able to take down.

"Michigan's billboard control law is so cumbersome, and so hazily defined in some areas, that we are not able to do the job we're supposed to do," Stafseth said.

He warned that the U.S. Department of Transportation has indicated it will withhold millions of dollars in highway construction funds from Michigan and other states which fail to enact billboard control laws meeting

Army Enlistments sought

The United States Army has announced its popular European enlistment option is once again open, said Sergeant Robert Maine, the local Army recruiter for Romulus and Belleville.

Under the terms of the enlistment option, young men who have no previous military service may enlist for three, four, five or six-year periods. They will be trained in the Infantry, Armor or Artillery Career Groups before their European assignments.

Once in Europe, he is guaranteed he will be with the United States Army, Europe, or with the unit for which he enlisted, for sixteen months.

REGULAR MEETING
March 8, 1971

The Regular Meeting of the Van Buren Board of Education was held in the Board Room of the Administration Building on Monday, March 8, 1971 at 8:00 p.m.

Members present: Mrs. Doris Roe, Mr. James Sayre, Mrs. Barbara Miller, Mr. Charles Bole, Mr. Chauncey Schweigert, Mr. Robert Archer, and Dr. Richard Muse. Also present were Superintendent Kaulitz, Business Manager Von Destinon, and Elementary Supervisor Gray.

The meeting was called to order at 8:09 p.m. by President Bole.

The minutes of the regular meeting of February 3, 1971 were reviewed and approved as printed.

The bills for the month of February were reviewed. Motion by Roe, supported by Sayre, that the bills be paid as presented. Motion carried.

Mr. James O. Brown, Chairman of the Sumpter Township Parks and Recreation Committee, was present to request use of our Sumpter and Elwell Elementary Schools for use in their proposed recreational program. They are also requesting the use of Bessie Hoffman Junior High from the Lincoln School District. Until funds are available, the program will just consist of the use of the multipurpose rooms for basketball for boys and girls. It will be a totally supervised program supervised by the senior citizens and other citizens from Sumpter. It will be a year around program. They plan to ask Eastern Michigan University to initiate a program with their physical education students to work with them. A committee consisting of Bill Chizmar, Tom McLendon, and Chauncey Schweigert, Chairman, was appointed to meet with the Sumpter Parks and Recreation Committee to work out something pertaining to days and times schools are wanted and if they are available to use at those times and to check into the costs of having the schools open. The committees are going to meet Wednesday, March 17 at 8:00 p.m. in the Board Room of the Administration Building.

The Board discussed the need to reconsider site for the new elementary school building. It was noted that the site is in line with the east-west runway of the proposed expansion of the Willow Run Airport and considering the noise and safety factors it would be impossible to use the present site. Motion by Archer, supported by Muse, that we dissolve plans to build the new elementary school on the existing Morton-Taylor site. Motion carried. A committee consisting of Dr. Richard Muse, Robert Gray, and James Sayre, Chairman, was appointed to work on securing a potential site to relocate the new elementary building.

The coming school bond election on March 18 was discussed. Superintendent Kaulitz made note of meetings the Board will attend concerning the bond issue during the next week.

Superintendent Kaulitz read a communication from Mrs. Charlene McNally, 42 S. Edgemont Street, Den Mother for Cub Scout Pack No. 793 of St. Anthony's Church stating that the boys would like to participate in Project S.O.A.R. (Save Our American Resources.) They would like to secure about 100 trees (Scotch or Norway Spruce variety) and plant them at our school sometime in late April or early May. Motion by Sayre, supported by Miller, to accept offer and have them meet with Mr. Peck, Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds, and principals to determine at which school the trees can best be used. Motion carried.

Business Manager Von Destinon discussed a request from the City of Belleville for a Quit Claim Deed and Easement at our South Junior High School. The Quit Claim Deed is for a 33 foot strip that runs along the north side of the junior high property in order that Owen Street can be continued through to have access to property behind the school for development. The easement is for a small area on the easterly part of the property that was lost when the original description of the property was corrected. The easement previously given to the City of Belleville was approximately 10.5 feet west of the east line of the school site (an approximate 10.5' x 9' square) and they are now asking to regain it. It was the unanimous decision of the Board that the request be tabled until further study could be made and a more detailed map acquired.

Business Manager Von Destinon read a list of seven items to be approved for purchase with the $5,000 that was allocated for use in setting up our own ground crew to care for the school grounds. They are as follows: 1) Bolen's 18 HP Tractor, $1717.; 2) Roxy Bonner Gang Mower-unit of three-60" cut, $389.; 3) 2 Bolen's Hand Mowers-18" cut, $176.20; 4) Sweepster Rotary Mower 5' wide, $413.; 5) Ford Flail Mower-7' wide, $547.; 6) Parker Lawn Sweeper-unit of three-100" width, $392.; and 7) 16' Trailer (Tiger Line-5112, Haulette $1657., or used model between $1000.-$1200.) All items were approved for purchase with the exception of the tractor which was tabled until further explanation from Mr. Peck.

Meeting adjourned at 10:47 p.m.

Mr. Thomas B. McLendon reported on behalf of the recreation committee (being made up of representatives of Sumpter Township as well as school representatives.) Ford Girls Club has anniversary

Ford Motor Company's Girls Club is celebrating its 25th anniversary during April. More than 1,100 members attended a silver anniversary dinner at the Raleigh House in Southfield on Thursday (April 22).

The club was founded in April, 1946, by a group of about 10 Ford employees who regularly golfed together, according to Mrs. Jane Maged, one of the original members and a receptionist at the Ford World Headquarters in Dearborn.

Today, the Chris Club offers its 1,500 members — all female employees at Ford locations throughout the Detroit metropolitan area — a variety of charitable, educational and recreational activities.

During 1971, club members are donating time and funds to such Detroit institutions as the Penickton School for the Blind, the Society for Crippled Children, Children's Hospital and the Kundig Settlement. Last fall, they dressed 3,000 Goodfellow Dolls for distribution to needy girls at Christmas.

Members are eligible to take classes in bridge, golf, dance, yoga, powder puff mechanics and other activities.

Each year, the club also offers special events, including in 1971 trips to Toronto, Nassau, New Orleans and Montreal.

Metro CPA sets meeting

The Metropolitan Detroit Chapter of The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants will hold its annual Joint Meeting with Group 10 of the Michigan Bankers Association, Robert Morris Associates, the American Society of Women Accountants and the Essex and Kent Chartered Accountants Association, on Thursday, May 6, at the Pontchartrain Hotel in Detroit.

The meeting will begin at 6 p.m. with a reception for the speaker, Dwight Havens, CCE, president, Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, whose topic will be "Telling It Like It Is". The honored guests on this occasion will be the recent successful CPA candidates from the Detroit area who will be presented to the group by Gerald C. Schroeder, CPA from Detroit, chairman of the Michigan State Board of Accountancy.

Another highlight of the program will be the presentation of the William A. Paton Award to the new CPA who achieved the highest score on all parts of the CPA examination last November. This award was established by the association in 1961 to honor Michigan's eminent educator in accounting, Professor Emeritus William A. Paton of The University of Michigan.

The meeting will be chaired by Robert D. Wishart, CPA from Detroit, Chapter

if an adequate program for the summer months is formulated and presented to the Van Buren Board of Education. Motion carried.

Representatives of the Belleville High School Student Council were present to present proposals for requested changes. The proposals were taken under advisement.

The Board reviewed the results of the recent bond election and discussed the present needs relative to building costs and methods to meet such needs. President Bole requested an administrative study of the problem with a report of recommendations to the Board relative to same.

Superintendent Kaulitz received the present financial position of the district and led a discussion relative to anticipated incomes and expenditures for the next fiscal year. Because of the confused financial picture and the likelihood of increased costs without commensurate income, the following motion was offered by Schweigert, supported by Muse, and unanimously passed, that all probationary teachers in the Van Buren School District be given the required 60 day notice of the intention of the School Board not to renew their teaching contracts.

A report was submitted by Principal John Ford relative to student Victor Thomas. Secretary Archer was directed to send notice by certified mail to the guardian of student of a hearing to determine whether or not student should be expelled from the Van Buren School District. Hearing was set for 9:30 p.m. on March 29, 1971.

Meeting adjourned at 11:00 p.m.

SPECIAL MEETING
March 29, 1971

A Special Meeting of the Van Buren Board of Education was held in the Board Room of the Administration Building on Monday, March 29, 1971 at 7:40 p.m.

Members present: Mrs. Doris J. Roe, Charles W. Bole, James Sayre, Dr. Richard Muse, and Robert K. Archer. Board member Chauncey Schweigert arrived at 8:20 p.m. Absent: Mrs. Barbara J. Miller. Also present: Superintendent Kaulitz, Curriculum Director Kohr, and Business Manager Von Destinon.

President Bole called the meeting to order. The prime purpose of the meeting was to listen to the report and recommendations of the High School Curriculum Committee. The meeting was turned over to the chairman of this committee, Mrs. Jorgensen, and the following members of the committee were present: Jean Orskey, Bart Berg, Lynne Hamilton, Norm Drayton, Jerry Griess, David Esch, Bob Evanski, and Paula Miller.

The committee made a very thorough presentation including slides, statistical studies, and related items. They also presented their recommendations in written form. Board President Bole indicated that the report and recommendations would be taken under advisement.

Secretary Archer reported that a notice of hearing had been forwarded to student Victor Thomas by certified mail, return receipt requested. No return receipt has been received as of this time and student Victor Thomas was not present nor was he represented by anyone. No further action was taken.

The meeting was adjourned.

Cold water accident safety tips outlined

The weather may be warming, but early season boaters and fishermen should remember the waters of rivers, lakes and streams are still cold and dangerous, said W. George Wibby, director of Safety Programs for the Southeastern Michigan Chapter, American Red Cross.

"Many drowning deaths in April and May may be attributed to prolonged immersion in cold water and the inability of the victim to get out of the water quickly," Wibby said.

He said that fishermen should wear heavy thermal underwear and other suitable clothing if there is a chance of a cold water accident.

In most instances of swamping or capsizing, a person should hang on to the boat, but in cold water, staying with the boat can be fatal if rescue is delayed, Wibby said. He added that the most important thing a victim should do is get out of the water by swimming to the nearest point of safety, whether it is a boat or shore.

"Swim with or at right angles to the current for the nearest landing," He continued, "Fatal cooling occurs more readily in water than in air, because wetting rapidly decreases the insulating capacity of clothing. Loss of body heat in cold water occurs at two to four times the rate in air at the same temperature.

A victim taken from cold water should be warmed in water approximately 100 degrees or wrapped in warm blankets, Wibby explained. He should not be placed close to a hot stove, a radiator or a heat lamp, because of the danger of burning tissue.

Extra clothing may be added to warm a person but keep him in a cool room. Warm fluids (Soups, bouillon, hot chocolate, no alcoholic beverages) may be given as tolerated and medical help should be secured as soon as possible, Wibby concluded.

Early college entrance possible at Marygrove

High school juniors of closing Catholic high schools may be able to take advantage of the "early admissions" policy implemented at Marygrove College last September, Thomas K. Plofchan, admissions director, reported.

It enables high school juniors, without a diploma, to be admitted if they have a recommendation, a 3.5 (B-plus) grade point average and a Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) composite score of 1,000 or more.

"The four girls who entered last fall are doing excellent work—one is carrying a 3.4 grade point average—and we have no doubts about their success," said Plofchan.

"In fact, the students themselves have more doubts than we have," Plofchan said. "They are afraid that, being younger, they might not be able to compete at the college level."

Marygrove, like most colleges, will admit students who get their diplomas a year early under the regular admission procedures. This means a 2.5 grade point (C-plus) average and the principal's recommendation.

Plofchan said Marygrove expects a sizeable number of students with early diplomas to enroll.

Marygrove, a woman's college, has an enrollment of 700 undergraduate, 200 graduate students.

It is coed in Summer School, Graduate, and Continuing Education programs. There are many male students, however, taking undergraduate courses. This is due to a consortium which exchanges faculty, students and program offered by Marygrove, University of Detroit, Mercy College of Detroit, Dun Scotus College, St. Mary's of Orchard Lake College, Madonna College and three seminaries.

Marygrove offers a bachelor of arts, bachelor of fine arts, bachelor of music, and bachelor of science degrees. It is the only private college in Michigan accredited to offer a major in special education.

"We have the advantage of a 'rolling admissions' policy," Plofchan said, "which means they can enroll at any 10-week interval, whenever they finish up their high school requirements, and start with a full college course."

Meet scheduled for May 4

Belleville set to host WW Relays

Area thinclads prepare for meet

Romulus' thinclads ran away with a Twin Valley dual meet against Willow Run as the Eagles piled up 67 team points to best their opponents 67-51 for the Eagles' first conference track victory in as many tries.

Ron Buckley earned 13 points, taking a first place in the broad jump with a distance of 20 feet, two inches. Buckley also took the gold medal in the high jump with a mark of five feet, eight inches. David Bell took first place honors in the high hurdles with a time of 15.8 and also captured the low hurdles with a time of 22.4.

Marvin Gooden bested the field in the shot-put event, with a loss of 47 feet, two inches.

The 880 relay quintet came in with a time of 1:35.1 to take the honors in that event. John Arrington, Brent Hamilton, Ron Buckley and McWharter were the four medalists for the Eagles.

Ron Darden, Bob Bailey, Jim Nesbit and McWharter came through for a victory in the mile relay and Brent Hamilton took the honors in the 220 yard dash with a time of 24.8.

Romulus heads into a triangular meet this week at Wayne Memorial, competing against the host Zebras, and the Rockets of John Glenn.

In dual meet action, Belleville earned a split, beating Plymouth 66-52, and losing to Redford Union 68-50. A meet at Jackson Parkside on Saturday was called "wasted" by Tiger mentor Ken Head.

Belleville had little trouble with Plymouth, but defending Suburban Six champion Redford Union proved to be too much for the Tiger thinclads. Belleville held a 10 point advantage, going into the 100 yard dash, but Redford Union swept the event and went on to sweep the 220 to give them the 18 point margin of victory.

Garrade Pettus came up with three first place finishes in the Redford meet and also came from behind as anchor man of the 880 relay team to give Belleville the victory. Pettus won the gold medal in the high jump with a mark of six feet, he also won the high hurdles with a time of 15.4 and took the honors in the long jump with a leap of 21 feet, eight inches.

Tony Ogletree also starred for the Tigers, finishing second in the high jump and low hurdles and running on two relay squads. Lonnie Clark, Phil Combs and Jon Cross also had good performances for Coach Head during the past week.

Belleville goes against Riverview and Livonia/Bentley.

Romulus netters earn split

Romulus' tennis team won its first match of the season on a fluke. A match scheduled with Hamtramck resulted in a forfeit victory when Romulus' opponent failed to show up. The forfeit victory was the first notch in the win column for the inexperienced Eagles this season. Coach Zane Kuryliw is having his problems this season as most of his performers are in their first year of competition. His experienced players are having their problems and the Eagle coach has lost three veterans, either through bad grades, resulting in ineligibility, or injury.

Following the forfeit victory, Romulus was bombed by Ecorse 7-0. The Eagles never came close and Romulus was wiped off of the court in each of the matches.

On the junior varsity level, two eighth graders are providing a ray of hope for the Eagles' tennis conquests in the future. Mike Heridia and Ray Ebersberger have yet to lose a match, including conquests against varsity members of the Ypsilanti squad. Both show much talent and Kuryliw is hoping that the addition of the two youngsters to the varsity squad, plus added experience for his current varsity members will make Romulus a contender in years to come.

Romulus has three matches scheduled for this week. They travel to River Rouge and Inkster, before playing host to Ypsilanti on Thursday.

IT WON'T BE LONG - Belleville's athletic field will once again be the of the Western Wayne Relays, scheduled for Tuesday, May 1. The annual event draws the top competitors in track and field to compete for team honors. Harry Hidenfelter, athletic director at Belleville High School and this year's meet director, predicts a strong turnout and expects another tremendous performance. Thirteen high schools have entered teams in the event, bringing with them some of the best talent this area has seen in recent years.

13 area teams vie for title

Thirteen high school teams are set to take part in the 12th annual Western Wayne Relays, scheduled for May 4 at Belleville High School. The meet will be held at Belleville for the last 10 years and meet director Harry Hidenfelter is looking forward to another outstanding performance by all of the competitors.

Taking part in the meet this year will be, Inkster, Cherry Hill, Garden City East, Garden City West, Robichaud, Taylor Center, Taylor Kennedy, Livonia Bentley, Livonia Franklin, Romulus, John Glenn, Wayne Memorial and Belleville.

The field events are set to start at 5 p.m. Three men from each school will compete in each of the events, with the best scores from each school added together to determine the champion. All titles will be given to only teams as no individual competition is planned.

The track events are scheduled to start at 7 p.m. with the two-mile run.

Four thinclads from each school will compete in each of the track events.

Hidenfelter said, "each meet has had tremendous performances and, based on performances by the competitors so far this year, I'm looking forward to another outstanding meet."

Defending champion Wayne Memorial will have its hands full when the Zebras try to defend the title. Other schools are coming to the relays laden with talent.

The annual event pits the best from each school competing for top honors, the

Thompson hurls one-hitter

Huron trips title hopeful

With little hope of winning the conference baseball title, Huron turned "spoiler" last week and knocked off previously unbeaten Tecumseh 3-0, as junior righthander Ron Thompson hurled a one-hitter.

It was coach Ron Smith's and the Chiefs first win of the campaign. However, on Friday the Chiefs regressed to their old ways, dropping a 6-3 decision to Airport.

Tecumseh's Dan Gunder spoiled Thompson's bid for a no-hitter when he cracked a solid single in the seventh inning. Thompson was just one out away from collecting a no-hit shutout. Thompson struck out four and walked only one enroute to the victory.

Thompson helped his own cause in the sixth inning when he slammed a triple to right center with two mates aboard to pad the Chiefs' one run advantage. Don Delano and Jack Garcia each collected two hits in four trips to lead a 10 hit attack.

Huron's conference record fell to 1-5 following a 6-3 decision to Airport. Glen Dregansky was on the mound for the first time and needed help from Thompson in the sixth inning. Airport collected six runs on six hits. The only bright spot in the loss to the Flyers was Butch Suemnick who went two for three as he collected two doubles and two RBIs. Suemnick is clubbing the ball at a .448 clip and leads the team in hitting. Smith is pleased with Suemnick's performance and is confident that the Chiefs can muster a respectable finish in the

Pitching hurts Tigers

Romulus nips Belleville

Belleville's baseball team got started on the wrong foot with two early losses last week. The Tigers got off to a late start and dropped their first two contests, losing to Plymouth 19-9 and dropping a 8-4 decision to Romulus.

Coach Vitold Kaminskis is worried about Belleville's pitching as he used all four pitchers in the loss to Plymouth. The Rocks jumped off with five runs in the first inning, though they gathered only two hits, the Tigers were victimized as Ed Branam gave up six walks in the first frame.

Plymouth clubbed Dave Billings in the second inning for nine runs. Getting three hits, the Rockets capitalized on several errors and four walks and piled up a 14 run output in two innings. Vern Gowen and Steve Theodore also saw mound action for Belleville before the game was over.

Gowen proved to be a bright spot in the Belleville line-up. The Tiger pitcher went 3-3 at the plate and collected two doubles, he also showed good form on the mound as he held the Rocks in check during his pitching tenure.

Dan Smith and Branam led the Belleville hitting attack against Romulus as Smith went 2-3 at the plate and Branam collected a double and a single in two trips. The pair led a 10 hit attack for the Tigers, but their hitting attack failed to produce any runs as they fell victim to the Romulus onslaught led by Leighton Ballard.

Belleville jumped to a 2-0 advantage, but that soon fell by the wayside as Ballard came in to help out starter Sam Ruffalo and struck out the last five men to give Romulus the victory. A big fourth inning that produced seven runs for Romulus proved to be the clincher for the Eagles.

Kaminskis, though standing 0-2 for the season, is confident that Belleville can come around.

ANOTHER WIN - Belleville's Garrade Pettus continues to shine in the 1971 track campaign. The Tiger senior has already established himself as the man to beat in both track and field and is running away with everything in sight. Pettus chalks up another victory for Belleville after a thrilling come from behind anchor leg in the 880 relay last week in dual meet action against Redford Union.

Tigers

Romulus, on the other hand, fell into hard times against Ypsilanti. Ballard tossed a one-hitter at the Braves, but his mates committed five errors and gave him only one hit throughout the contest and the Eagles fell victim to the Braves 3-1 for their first loss of the season. Ballard, now 3-1 on the season, has his ERA down to 0.91 by giving only four earned runs in 31 2-3 innings of pitching for the 1971 season.

The Eagles' season record now stands at 5-1 for the season, they do not face any Twin Vally league foes until May.

Ballard, Virgil Smith, Frank Mayeran and Bill Ward currently are leading the Romulus hitting attack and coach Lowell Johnson is high on their performances with the bat. Romulus has also been playing good defensive ball, their only bad performance came against Ypsilanti, when they committed five miscues.

Belleville squares off against Livonia Bentley, Allen Park and Wayne Memorial this week, with all contests slated for the home diamond. Romulus will face Huron and Hamtramck this week. All games are non-league contests.

A GOOD TOSS - Belleville's John Alford lets go with a good toss in the shot-put event. Alford and his mates will play host to 12 other area high schools for the 12th Annual Western Wayne Relays. The prestigious event will feature the area's top throwers competing in team events to determine the best track squad in Western Wayne County. The meet is scheduled for May 1.

Sports retort

Those "stout-hearted" men, whom Nelson Eddy used to sing about way back when, showed up Sunday at our offices. There were nine of them — one group led by Jim Thompson, who represented the Wayne Jaycees; the other by always reliable Bill Pinnell, athletic director and head track coach at Garden City West.

The second delegation also included Joe Grasley, head track coach at Cherry Hill High School, and Len Natkowski, St. Mary of Wayne's track mentor.

And we listened as this small nucleus turned the wheels for the Third Annual All-Area Track Invitational. They resolved everything — well, almost everything.

There are still some pertinent details on the drawing board.

One question that has been answered is that Garden City West will host the annual invitational that brings together the cream of the high school crop each year to compete for trophies and a berth on the mythical All-Area track team.

Another question that was answered is that Wayne Jaycees, along with participating Jaycee organizations, and the Associated Newspapers, will foot the bill for this prestigious meet.

With more than 500 fans in attendance at the inaugural meet which was hosted by Garden City East, and approximately an equal number last year at Wayne Memorial, this year, with such outstanding performers as Belleville's Garrade Pettus and several others, the fans will be in for a real treat.

Schools in the area of eligibility are, Belleville, Romulus, Huron, Garden City East, Garden City West, Wayne Memorial, John Glenn, Wayne St. Mary, Robichaud, Inkster, Laxson, Franklin and Livonia Churchill.

As in previous years, all athletes who attend any one of the above mentioned high schools will be eligible to compete in the meet.

And, any athlete who resides within a city that is covered by the Associated Newspapers but doesn't attend one of the mentioned high schools is also eligible to compete. Therefore, students who attend Catholic Central, or Lutheran West, for example, can challenge their rivals for a berth on the mythical team.

Belleville Golf

Sam Vicchy's Belleville golfers have an even 1-1 record to show, following three early meets. The Tigers dropped a 169-158 decision to Plymouth, then defeated Taylor by a score of 195-172 and tied with Redford Union at 185-185, to close out the weeks action.

Plymouth's Steve Gaddey came up with the honors in the first match, his 39 was good for medalist honors. Belleville's Steve Burwell was low man for the Tigers with a score of 40.

Carl Bolk of Taylor took medalist honors though his team mates weren't much help and his effort went for naught. Bolk was low man with a mark of 39. Craig Barnett and Burwell were low for Belleville with identical scores of 42.

In the tie with Redford Union, Barnett took medalist honors with a score of 43.

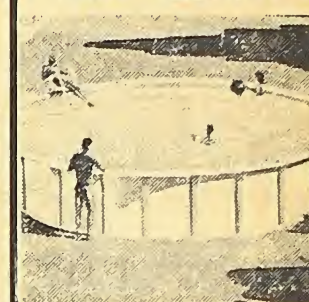

Barnett, Burwell and Chris Birk have carried the load on the links for Belleville this year. Vicchy is looking forward to better years ahead as all three will be back in the line-up next season. Vicchy is carrying four sophomores in his line-up this season.

Belleville will meet Livonia Bentley, Willow Run and Allen Park in golf action this week.

Don Robinson, Wayne State University senior jumping ace, set the school's indoor triple jump record in 1968 with a leap of 45-5.

Huron upsets Tecumseh 3-0

Keith Reed's Chiefs of Huron managed a split in dual meet action last week, losing an 88-29 decision to Grosse Ile, but coming back to nip Carlson 66-52.

Reed, a coach at Grosse Ile last year, said that the Huron thincads were, "emotionally up tight" at the Grosse Ile meet. "Since it was my old school, the boys really wanted to win," Reed said, "a couple of incidents were too much, Dan Clark was so excited that he fainted after winning the 440 yard run and they (Huron) were too high strung to compete well."

It was a different story in the Carlson meet, however, Reed said that he worked the Huron thincads hard to earn the victory, in order to get ready for future meets. Dave Edge earned gold medals in the 100 yard dash with a time of 10.5 and the low hurdles with a time of 21.4. Dan Clark contributed 13½ points to the team's standing, winning the 440, 220 and running a leg on the 880 relay quintet.

Following the split, the Chiefs are currently 3-1 for the season. Reed adds that Huron, though weak in the field events, will surprise a lot of people this year due to exceptional strength in the running events. "We've got a lot of strong runners who have recorded the best time in the league in several events so far this season," Reed said, "We have the talent in the track events and we are going to be hard to beat this year."

Blissfield will play host to Huron on Tuesday and the Chiefs will return home on Friday, to face Ida.

relays have proven in the past to be one of the most prestigious meets in any season as competition among area schools is held to crown the best from the area in team standings.

Although scoring is only counted for team points, many individual stars will be on hand and spectators will be treated to some of the best performances by some of the best thincads in the area.

There is no admission charge, and the public is cordially invited.

Huron league providing the rest of the team starts hitting.

Huron will face Romulus at home before traveling to Blissfield later in the week.

Nearing the half-way point in their schedule, the Chiefs are trying to get some sort of an offensive threat going. Hitting has been a problem for coach Smith and the Chiefs and, with the exception of Suemnick, the Chiefs are not performing up to expectations, though most of the players have put together some good games. Smith said that the problem is that the players are unable to keep a hot streak going and they are unable to continue hitting the ball well after a couple of good games.

Highway litter still growing

"Public concern for clean environment is a healthy step in an encouraging direction," State Highway Director Henrik E. Stabetsch said. "But the tons of litter along our state highway system are grim reminders that the litterbug still ranks high as a public enemy."

The annual spring clean-up along the entire 9,251-mile state highway system is well underway in Michigan's Lower Peninsula, Stabetsch reported.

"Unfortunately, our clean-up crews are reporting more and heavier public litter than ever before," he added.

While major metropolitan areas continue to be hardest hit by public litter, a new problem emerging is the tremendous increase in litter along the major north-south highways, according to the Paul J. Marek, the Highway Department's chief maintenance engineer.

"It is rather obvious," Marek said, "that the huge growth in winter sports activities - such as skiing, snowmobiling and ice fishing - is attracting greater numbers of people from the southern part of the state to the north country. They have left a heavy trail of litter in their wake."

While highway maintenance crews work year-round to keep highways clear of litter, the spring clean-up - usually in April - is the single most concentrated effort by the Highway Department to clean up the highways.

The Highway Department got an early jump on the Spring clean-up project this year in the Lower Peninsula, "in a major effort to have clean highways by Earth Week, April 18-24."

From April 1 of this year until April 1 of next year, an estimated 20,000 truckloads of public litter will be picked up from the state highway system and its roadside and tourist facilities. The cost for public litter pick-up on the state highway system for the latest completed fiscal year (1969-70) was $1,038,188. Ten years ago, the cost was slightly more than one-third of current cost.

Litter continues to be strewn along state highways in spite of the fact that Michigan is a national leader in the placement of litter barrels - more than 4,000 - at freeway rest areas, roadside parks and roadside picnic sites.

A growing problem, according to the Highway Department, is the dumping of large amounts of household rubbish and garbage in roadside litter barrels.

Troubleshooters getting ready

The boys who will keep America rolling in the years ahead will be out to demonstrate their automobile know-how in the Plymouth Trouble Shooting contest for the state of Michigan on the Kern block in downtown Detroit April 30.

Students from Romulus senior high school will participate.

This is an annual event sponsored by Plymouth dealers of this area in which auto mechanics students find and fix several malfunctions deliberately hidden in new cars by experts. Ability to quickly restore the car to normal running order counts as 70 percent of a team's final score. There is also a written examination which counts as 30 percent of a team's score.

Scholarships, an inside track on a job, and a chance to perform on the famed Indianapolis "500" Speedway are the students' inducements.

The winning team in this and some 100 other local contests receives an all-expense trip to Indianapolis where the National Trouble Shooting Finals will be held June 14, 15 and 16.

More than $125,000 worth of scholarships, prizes, trophies, tools, practice engines and transmission and other automobile components for competing schools are offered, according to John H. Moore, Jr., National Trouble Shooting Manager.

Scholarships provided this year total $37,000. The first place teams at the National Finals in two classes - high school and post-high school - each will be offered $5,000 in scholarships.

Another feature in the 1971 program is the active recruitment of Trouble Shooters who participate in local contests to become apprentice mechanics in Plymouth dealerships.

Plymouth makes available to all dealers in a local contest area the names and addresses of all boys who make their school Trouble Shooting teams and urges dealers to interview them as potential apprentice mechanics. The boys receive Trouble Shooter certificates to present to dealers.

Recognizing that a substantial investment in tools is a prerequisite for most automobile mechanics, the program includes a plan for letting apprentice mechanics get tools at substantially reduced cost when hired and paying for them through payroll deductions while they work.

A qualified young mechanic can go to work immediately with his own set of tools which retails at $550. His total cost of the tools is less than half, $224, and he can pay for them with no down payment and a small weekly deduction from his wages.

Trophies for their schools and individual prizes are provided for local contest winners.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

The biggest swindle the world has ever seen is taking place in front of your eyes every day of every week. It is a national disgrace!

When a person loses money in a swindle, the loser learns a lesson. The loser at least has a second chance to make sure he is not swindled again. But suppose you don't have a second chance? Suppose you are swindled out of your right to live? Sounds like a strange swindle? Not at all...

Every day, human beings are swindled out of a right to live. An apathetic public shrugs its shoulders, even while officials predict with mathematical accuracy the number of unsuspecting victims who will be swindled. The swindled victims wind up as mere statistics to be compared with still later statistics as the count in traffic fatalities continues.

Isn't it about time each one of us asked ourselves these three simple questions? Do I want to be swindled out of my right to live? What can I do to avoid it? What can I do to make sure I don't swindle someone else out of a right to live? These are simple questions. There are sensible answers. Putting the answers to work is the only way to diminish the disgrace...

Shirley Tkachuk is March bride

Some 200 guests were assembled March 27 at Zion Missionary Church, Belleville, for the marriage of Shirley Ann Tkachuk of Romulus and Paul Benjamin Robbins of Wayne.

Two double candelabra and altar vases of gladiolas and mums provided the setting for the seven o'clock ceremony read by the Rev. Donald Crocker.

For the double ring rite, Mrs. Linda Crocker was at the organ to accompany Jim Southward of Belleville who was soloist.

SHIRLEY IS the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tkachuk of 38811 Wade, Romulus, and Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Silhan of Miriam Street, Romulus.

The bride's Chantilly lace gown was fashioned with a high collar and small bow at the neckline and traditional wristpoint sleeves. Her bouffant skirt, formed of tiers of ruffles, terminated in a long peacock train which was later formed into a bustle.

Her bouffant fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was caught to a headpiece of lace formed into petals with pearl and crystal accents.

HER SEMI-CASCADE bouquet was comprised of white carnations and tendrils of ivy.

The bride's aunt, Nancy DeShon of Romulus, carried out the role of honor attendant in a blue rayon-taffeta empire style gown with a round neckline and full sleeves ruffled at the wrist.

Her headpiece was matching ruffled ribbon with a brief veil attached and her colonial bouquet was of white carnations tipped in blue.

Three of the bride's classmates, Vicki Kyak, Betty Garland and Maria Torra, all of Romulus, and a cousin, Linda Penna of Maybee, formed the bridal coterie.

Their frocks in yellow, apricot, green, and baby blue, respectively, were styled in the A-line mode with rolled collars and large bows defining the trains in back. Their headgear was in matching colors and their bouquets were white carnations tipped to match their ensembles.

IN AN ORCHID outfit similar to those worn by the bridesmaids Kathy De Shon of Romulus, cousin of the bride, served as flowergirl.

Harold Penna of Maybee, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

The bridegroom asked Robert Mears of Redford, a co-worker at Ford's, to be best man. Ushers were Gordon Stull of Romulus, uncle of the bride; Henry Tkachuk, Jr., brother of the bride; and William De Shon of Romulus, another uncle of the bride. Terrance Tkachuk was junior usher at his sister's wedding.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tkachuk donned a formal gown of lace over taffeta, a gold flowered hat, and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a formal gown in pink with a matching hat and white accessories. Both were honored with corsages of white carnations.

FOLLOWING THEIR reception at Westwood Inn, Inkster, the newlyweds departed for a week-long honeymoon in Northern Michigan. They are now at home at 5264 S. Wayne Road, Wayne.

The bride is a senior at Romulus High School where her husband graduated in 1965. A veteran of two years service in Vietnam, he is currently employed at the Ford Motor Company, Livonia.

Improved service cited by county cancer unit

Improved services and rehabilitation programs to improve the quality of survival of cancer patients, particularly those at home, were described Monday by Dr. Robert M. O'Bryan, Chairman, Service Committee of the Wayne County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Dr. O'Bryan was describing a key aspect of the national program, as the ACS launched its 1971 educational and fund-raising Crusade that began April 1.

"Our goal here in Wayne County is to assist patients in achieving the greatest results in both their physical and psychological rehabilitation," said Dr. O'Bryan.

"Our Reach to Recovery program has brought courage and hope to women who have recently undergone breast surgery. It is a time when the patients spirits may be the lowest. Our purpose is to tell patients that recovery is indeed possible, and that she can have a normal life and appearance again."

He pointed out that breast cancer is the leading cause of cancer death among women, "but early detection can provide a great margin for survival."

As with breast cancer patients, Dr. O'Bryan said, "patients who have had their larynx (voice box) removed may undergo a tremendous emotional shock. At such a time the patient and his family need all the support, patience, and understanding that can be given."

Dr. O'Bryan said the program of the International Association of Laryngectomees, sponsored by the ACS, and its more than 100 member clubs, cooperate with physicians, speech therapists, and other specialists to help the patient develop a new voice and adjust to the new and special conditions of living.

"The American Cancer Society recognizes that the rehabilitation of the cancer patient is a vital part of his medical care," said Dr. O'Bryan.

Rouge pollution study requested

A subcommittee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, created to concentrate on elimination of pollution from the Rouge River, has recommended a study to identify the sources of pollution as the first step.

The four-member subcommittee recommended that the County Board allocate up to $20,000 to cover 60 percent of the cost of the study which would pinpoint the causes of pollution and flooding along more than 20 miles of the river.

Oakland County will be asked to provide up to $15,000 to finance the remaining 40 percent cost of the study.

The subcommittee, chaired by Commissioner Richard E. Manning, of Redford, D-District 19, was established by the board's Public Works Committee. Its other three members are: James DeSana, Wyandotte, D-Dist. 23; John Lesinski, Dearborn, D-Dist.

20; and Charmie Currie, Detroit, D-Dist. 6.

Funds to finance the study in cooperation with Oakland County were requested by County Drain Commissioner Henry V. Herrick who has been given the task of coordinating efforts to clean up the Rouge by the Board of Commissioners.

The commissioners have also allocated $10,000 for Herrick to use in clearing debris from the Rouge River this summer. Additional money may be appropriated as the project progresses. Herrick plans to coordinate his efforts with those of citizen volunteers who turned out 1,400-strong a year ago for a weekend "Rescue the Rouge" clean-up drive.

Herrick said identification of sources of pollution will aid in enforcing the State clean water regulations and in determining the assessment of costs of drain improvements needed to eliminate pollution.

Cadets visit museum at Ohio Air Force base

Cadets of the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, recently visited the United States Air Force Museum, located at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio.

Cadets making the trip included Cadet Lieutenant Colonel JoAnn Brazier, Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Terry Markovich, Cadet Second Lieutenant Bruce Judycki and Cadet Second Lieutenant Fred Chesney.

Transportation was provided by senior escort officer Major Alan Creighton, while a steak lunch for all personnel was provided by senior escort officer Major Martha Brazier.

The trip, one of several offered each year to Cadet members of the squadron, was a reward for the extra work done by these Cadets in the squadron Drill Team and the unit Honor Flight, the latter a service organization for the squadron.

The museum, operated by the Air Force, is open to the public free of charge. On view are aircraft and related artifacts from a 1909 Wright Flyer to some of the latest USAF operational aircraft. Foreign aircraft include a Ju 88 German bomber, a Japanese fighter, a V-1 Buzz Bomb and a MiG 15 Russian fighter. A F-85 Goblin fighter, the world's smallest fighter aircraft, is dwarfed as it sits next to a B-36, the world's largest operational bomber.

Both are located in a large open-air lot next to the enclosed building housing the main exhibit. The display is one of the largest collections of aircraft on exhibition throughout the world.

FIRST OPERATIONAL HELICOPTER used by the Army Air Corps in World War II is being examined by Cadet Second Lt. Fred Chesney, of Flat Rock, a member of the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron, Civil Air Patrol. Cadet Chesney was among members of the squadron that visited the USAF Air Museum in Dayton, Ohio, recently.

Chamber 'clique' charge answered

The answer to the charge that "the Chamber of Commerce is a clique" has been given.

Newly elected Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce President, R. Lynne Hamilton answered the charge without mincing words when a member suggested that "the Chamber of Commerce should shed its clique image."

"You bet the Chamber of Commerce is a clique. It is a clique of businesses and individuals interested in making our community a better place to live."

"Sure, it's a clique. A clique of dedicated people."

"A clique of involved people and a clique with a record of accomplishment."

"A clique of people investing time and money in an organization that gets things done."

"It is a clique of people that spends more time performing than talking about what 'they' ought to be doing."

"It is a clique with a membership that has community and individual progress as its goal."

"That's the kind of clique to have—and the kind of clique to join."

"And it's a lot more fun being on the inside!"

A Good Salesman

When Times were bad, he made more calls. Took more chances and had more falls. But the law of average never fails. So with all his falls, he made more sales. With the fishing slow he used more bait. He started early and came home late. Used all his skill on every cast. And daily his basket filled at last. When folks were glum, he smiled serene. If ever he frowned, it was not seen. His wholesome way was a gleam of the sun. To many who thought the clouds had won. He plodded along through the years of woe. A fellow whom folks liked to know. Not up in the air nor under ground. But steady and nice to have around. Of course, when the pressure lifted a bit. You should have seen the pace he hit! His business rolled like the Irish stakes. For he had the friends and all it takes.

New member to the Chamber is Contract Welding & Machining Co., 1050 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville. "Pa, tell me how you proposed to Ma," requested the young hopeful.

Well, son, as I remember it was like this. We were sitting on the sofa one night at her house. She leaned over and whispered in my ear. I said, "The hell you are" and the next day we got married."

Richert's son is sixth child

Mrs. Jean Richert, wife of Dr. Joseph Richert and secretary of the Huron Township Board of Education gave birth to a seven-pound-eight-ounce baby boy in Garden City Osteopathic Hospital. Both the mother and new baby are reported doing fine.

The Richerts, who reside at 34180 Huron River Dr., New Boston, are now the parents of six children including two boys adopted last February.

The new baby has been named James Daniel.

Now a nurse

The School of Nursing of Bronson Methodist Hospital, Kalamazoo, graduated 64 students Wednesday at the First Methodist Church, Kalamazoo.

Among the graduates was Miss Joann Messenger of Belleville.

Elementary students take speech course

Some of the children in the sixth grades at the Elwell Elementary School, Belleville, were given the unusual opportunity recently to take a compact speech course.

The children in the sixth grades volunteered to participate and the response was great. Fourteen children were selected and they received eight half-hour sessions.

Reading the course was Miss Faith Kuzma who volunteered her free time. She felt that the course would work and was worth the effort.

Miss Kuzma said "The children did very well and were an excellent group to work with."

Students who participated in the speech course are:

Janie Jeffrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jeffery 17235 Sumpter, Karen Bacome, daughter of Mr. George Bacome 66507 Bemis; Kathy Crane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Crane 19831 Sumpter; and Susie Lemanski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lemanski, 21831 Elwell.

PASS IT ON by L.M. Boyd

Prettiest women in the country now marry advertising men. They used to marry engineers. Five years ago. Not anymore. Don't know why the change. But an advanced student of the matter insists it's so. Before engineers the prettiest women married doctors. Before doctors, military officers, particularly Army. And before officers, they married salesmen. But that was way back. Way way back.

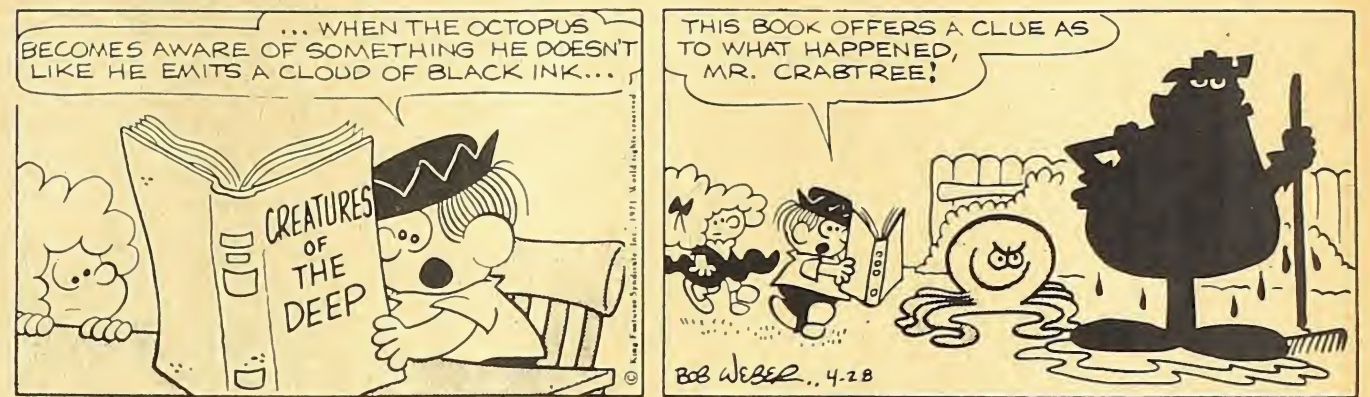

Crime statisticians say Tokyo has relinquished its title as the pickpocket capital of the world. To South America's Bogota. When there, if ever, look out... As to those five words in the English language that end in "dous," they're tremendous, stupendous, horrendous, hazardous, and still can't remember the last one, nuts! ... Did I tell you 22 per cent of the world's books are printed in English? And 17 per cent are printed in Russian?

Approximately one out of every 100 citizens gets no dental cavities. It's not just the nature of the tooth enamel. It's something in the saliva that fights bacteria. A germicide. What the medical boys are trying to put together now, naturally enough, is a pill to make us all so antiseptic. They expect to, too.

Customer service: Q. "I'd say far more women than men are compulsive eaters, right?" A. Only because they're home more, say the experts. Closer to the refrigerator... Q. "Know Joe Louis boxed a lot of exhibition matches for the Armed Forces, but other than that, how many official bouts did he fight? And win?" By knockouts?" A. Official fights 71. Wins, 68. With 54 knockouts. Might mention 24 of those knockouts came in either the first or second rounds... Q. "At what age can most youngsters be toilet trained?" A. Girls, age 2. Boys, age 3. Those are the unfortunate facts, gentlemen.

CARROLL RICHTER'S

General tendencies: In the midst of many surface problems, there is a definite forward movement which will enable you to gain your ends. Plan in detail and ignore the small annoyances. Focus your energies and your activities on going after longtime desires steadily.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You are able to get the support you need for important projects from good friends who have the means. Then get busy at those tasks ahead of you and complete them quickly. Don't argue with mate.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Contact individuals who will help you make your property more comfortable and valuable. See how to add to present income appreciably in an ethical fashion. Do not take any risks that could be dangerous.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) If you talk over some problem with a person who thinks differently from you, you find you can solve it quickly. Kin will help you with some work that is most boring for you. Get it out of the way quickly.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) If you waste too much time just worrying about a problem, you accomplish very little so toss it aside for now and tomorrow the right solution comes to you. Handle that big deal cleverly. An expert is very helpful.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Talk over that new project with a friend and then see about getting the financial backing you need for it. Forget social life in p.m., since little or nothing would come of it. Get a good night's rest.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study that public problem well before you try to handle it. Show you are not a superficial person. Others are depending on you to get some work done; do it without fail and do it well.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have inspired ideas how to put new life into old projects that will make them successful instead of discouraging failures. Information from one overseas can be helpful. Work at a measured pace.

Tomorrow's forecast from the Carroll Richter Institute

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plans must be well worked out if you want to handle your responsibilities satisfactorily today. Don't rely on advisors since they are busy. Use your best judgment and all is fine.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Pay attention to the ideas of an associate and do not look for bigwigs to do more for you than you have a right to expect. Get away from that argument brewing between two talkative people. Keep out of trouble.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Ideal day to attend to work that only you can handle properly and do so in a clever and ingenious way. Expressing some particular talent you have is also good. Derive much pleasure or profit, or both from this.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A romantic interest has some rather strange ideas today, so smile them away and do not break up the relationship. Tomorrow they will be forgotten. Get out and buy that new wardrobe you want.

Pices (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You had better cooperate with what family has in mind or you can certainly be the loser, as well as they. Ridding yourself of the cause of tensions at home is wise. Show that you have a cheerful attitude.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those rather delicate young people who requires more rest and better food than other children in order to build up the little body and strengthen the will. Be careful in the disciplining of this child - discipline should be diplomatic so as not to irritate the nerves. The fields of writing, selling, the law or medicine are fine here. Plan now for a good education, if your income is rather meager. Not too strenuous sports.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you.

Carroll Richter's Individual Forecast for your sign for May is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and $1 to Carroll Richter Forecast, The Daily Eagle Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90028.

Already told you the brother of Samuel Colt, who invented the revolver, once killed a man with a hatchet. At his trial, Sam was called to testify on his brother's behalf. Numerous newsmen were at hand. So Sam took that opportunity on the witness stand to describe in great detail his own marvelous new handgun. Quite a piece of promotion! That was the beginning of the Colt .45 fame. Sam's speech left no doubt whatsoever about the superiority of the pistol over the hatchet. Oh, Sam, you wouldn't! He did.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in "Pass It On" wherever possible. Please address your letters to L.M. Boyd, P.O. Box 17076, Fort Worth Texas, 76102.

Proper wedding attire ...and the bride

For a first wedding, the bride wears a white gown and bridal veil. For a formal or semi-formal wedding, the gown is full length, with or without a train. For informal weddings, brides may choose either floor or street-length gowns.

The most elegant gowns are simple and classic. Although white is traditional, palest blue, pink or ivory are often more flattering to the skins. The formality of the entire wedding is dictated by the length of the wedding veil. The most formal veil extends the full length of the train in a long, fluid sweep. A finger-tip or elbow-length veil is less formal.

The length of the train depends upon the size of the church, height of the bride and style of the bridal gown. The very long train and veil are used for large, formal weddings.

The bride's slippers are of white silk. Gloves are not required for a small wedding or if the bride's hands and forearms are hidden by sleeves or her bouquet. The bride may wear gloves at a garden ceremony but not at other home weddings. Short white gloves are recommended for young brides. It is never correct to wear dark gloves.

For an informal wedding, the bride wears a short or floor-length gown with no train or veil. Or she may wear a veil no longer than halo length. With a street dress or going-away suit, she usually wears a hat or small headdress.

Her Attendants

If the bride's gown is ballerina-length, the attendants' dresses must also be short. However, theirs may be short, even though the bride may choose to wear a long gown with a train.

The dress of the maid of matron of honor is often similar but different in color and style from the bridesmaid's dresses. Her bouquet may differ.

Junior bridesmaids, usually ages ten to sixteen, wear modified copies of bridesmaids' gowns.

Flower girls, four to ten years of age, wear party-type dresses. The ring bearer, four to ten years old, wears a white or dark Eton suit with white shirt and tie. He walks with the flower girl or alone. (Courtesy of the J.L. Hudson Co.)

THE LACY LOOK - cape sleeves, a bow at the waistline and the sheer femininity of lace add up to the "romantic" look that has appeal for brides in the bridal gown shown by Monica Houghton, bridal consultant at Stuart's Bridal Salon - Wayne. To complete the picture, the full-length veil is banded in matching lace and is secured by a face-framing lace head-piece.

Add diamond's sparkle

If the bridegroom's gift to the bride is a beautiful pin, she will want to wear it on her wedding day, and in style with today's fashion trends.

A pin can be centered on a medium-width white velvet or satin ribbon, dog collar fashion.

The bride will draw attention not only to her neck, but also the beautiful diamond pin so affectionately given to her by her waiting bridegroom.

A short diamond drip necklace can be draped over a plain white ribbon.

If the groom has given his bride diamond clip earrings, and her veil covers her ears, the clips can be dramatically attached to the dog collar.

A bridal consultant is bride's best friend

"Consultant" is a word that has become a very familiar one to the public, but to a bride-to-be, the word, when combined with "bridal," adds up to "lifesaver," and "miracle worker."

The bridal consultant can help in the selection of the bridal gown and accessories. The gowns worn by the bridesmaids, and even that of the mother of the bride and bridegroom can become part of the complete wedding picture with the help of the consultant.

And best of all, her services are provided at no cost by the retailers wishing to serve you, the bride.

In addition to the bridal salon consultant, there are her counterparts in many categories, from the gift registrant to the consultant who can help you plan your home, choose your stationary, and decide on the type of wedding photos to be taken.

The smartest thing the bride-elect can do is look for her nearest "consultant," and then let the experts interpret her wishes and needs in keeping with her individual bridal budget.

Fabrics reflect a mood

Radiance and beauty of the spring bride are mirrored in the very fabrics of wedding gowns.

Chiffon, organdy and organza float blissfully down the aisle. Peau de soie flows gracefully, romantically.

Trims and treatments enhance, from little touches of point d'esprit and satin on tiers of fabric, in buttons, to glorious drifts of lace.

Ribbons and daintiest ruffles enhance. Flowers bloom in embroidery and appliques.

FINISHING TOUCHES - The right gloves for the bridal gown, that dainty bride's garter, a small, but roomy bag to carry cosmetic essentials and the pillow that will bear the wedding rings are all small, but important items in planning wedding details, according to bridal consultants. It's suggested that these selections aren't left until the last minute. Courtesy of Stuart's Bridal Salon.

Choosing those shower gifts

Where there are brides - there are bridal showers - and sometimes choosing something for the bride can create a problem, particularly if she has registered her preferences at stores that are not in the area in which the gift-giver lives.

If suggestions are not forthcoming from the bride or a member of her family or bridal party, the giver may well be in a quandary about the gift to select.

When in doubt, be thoughtful and/or imaginative. A gift need not be costly to be appreciated. To be considered are:

holder, soap dish, bath powder jar;

Other gift items suggested are: a fitted, plastic makeup case for traveling; a magnifying mirror for putting on make-up; a heating pad in a decorative cover; satin pillow cases to preserve the hairdo; a variety of colorful scarves; a leather-covered address-telephone book for her new home; a photo album to record her new life; gilt filigree picture frames, or a unique key chain for "their" car or home.

Then there's a collection of spices with a companion book to tell of their use in cooking; a "how-to" book for the little crises in homemaking; toss pillows; a timer for the kitchen; a small, bullseye reading lamp; playing cards; an album of her favorite music, or a charm bracelet.

There are "gifts unlimited."

Scented pomander balls for the closet; padded, satin or velvet clothes hangers; satin cases for lingerie; glove, hanky and hose boxes; stationary (with her new initial); scented candles and holders; ceramic, raffia or wooden coasters; glass decanters; a cookbook; a copper teakettle; bathroom accessories in alabaster or china, such as a lipstick

Your wedding story

The story of your wedding as it appears in print can be added to the mementoes of that special day in your life, and can be sent to those who are unable to be present, in person, for the ceremony.

The Daily Eagle has special wedding forms available. The information asked for can be filled in, and the form and a picture (a 5 x 7 glossy print of the bride or bride and bridegroom) returned to the newspaper office for publication - and at no charge - as a service to the readers of the Daily Eagle.

Wedding forms can be picked up at the Daily Eagle office, 35540 Michigan Ave., West, Wayne, or will be mailed out if a telephone request is made. Call the Women's Editor, 729-4000.

To have wedding story and picture in the Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman, call OX 7-9191 for forms to be mailed out. The forms may be picked up at the office in Belleville, located at 330 Main St.

To have a picture returned, please enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope, or the picture can be picked up at the newspaper office following publication.

On the fashion scene: your bridal finery

The bride of Spring or Summer, 1971 has everything going for her as far as her bridal ensemble is concerned — in style, material and accessories. According to bridal consultant Monica

Houghton, the material that's most versatile for year-around use is sata-peau — and the bride of today that comes to her at Stuart's Bridal Salon in Wayne, is generally looking for simplicity in her gown.

A majority of brides are currently selecting the mantilla in lieu of the traditional veil, and with the longer mantillas, are foregoing a train on the gown.

The classic, A-line, empire gown is, most popular with brides, who also seem to prefer long sleeves, but follow the trend away from the fitted or wrist-point version.

As for the bridal party, picture hats reflect the romantic trend, and are worn with just about every style gown, even to the pants-effect that gives the illusion of a full-skirted bridesmaid's gown, in colors or floral prints.

According to Mrs. Houghton, there have been no requests for "hot pants" bridal ensembles, and she doubts there will be.

On the bridal scene with Mrs. Joann Frisky and Mrs. Alice Manoojian at the bridal salon at Hudson's, Westland, it's the "total look" for the bride.

It's the elegant gown in white or ivory with a matching lace-edged mantilla, the gown in silk organza or peau de soie.

Flounced hemlines are being seen more and more, particularly on the gowns that follow the softer, romantic look of past eras. Some designs feature a capelet that forms the bodice and substitutes for a sleeve in its almost elbow-length. The voile or organza used is generally embroidered in a floral motif in the same white or ivory.

One particular style in the midi-length in tissue silk, featured dainty hemstitching as its only trim, while another is distinguished by leg-of-mutton sleeves, and still another gown has a modified princess line with applied lace flowers giving a gored-effect to the graceful skirts.

Closed or open-crowned camelot caps, lace or flower-covered, are popular with today's bride, particularly with those who wear their hair long, straight and shining. The caps are particularly effective with short, bouffant veils.

Face-framer styles and princess crowns with seed pearls and Aurora Borealis beading are equally good with the traditional or classic gowns — while the peasant-look requires a bow headpiece with real or flowers of the material of the gown.

BRIDES LOOK BACK—Romantically, spring's brides look to the past for fashion inspiration. One choice might be this ivory peau de soie etched with Val lace, with circlet neckline and angel sleeves. Complementing the gown is an heirloomlook veil and a dog collar decked with the groom's gift to the bride—a golden brooch sprinkled with diamonds. Gold and diamond pin by Peter Lindeman; bridal gown from the Priscilla boutique collection.

There are weddings...and weddings!

Formal

The ultra-formal wedding, honoring every tradition in the most lavish manner, is elegant.

There are usually many guests invited to the church and reception; the bride chooses four or more attendants; and, of course, the bridal gown is the most formal with long train and cathedral length veil. The entire wedding party follows suit, wearing the most formal attire appropriate for the hour.

A wedding carried out in formal tempo may, however, be kept quite simple in its appointments with only a small gathering at the church.

A formal home wedding involves less expenditure but has the disadvantage of limiting the number of guests. The bride's mother receives guests as they arrive. She takes her place when the bride is ready to make her entrance.

At the home wedding there is no recessional.

Semi-formal

A semi-formal wedding, whether in a church, chapel, home or club, may be exquisite. Wedding attire for the bride need not be strictly formal.

The traditional long veil is substituted by a short finger-tip or elbow-length veil. If the bride's gown has a short train, or no train at all, the whole tone of the wedding may relax in its formal requirements. If the gown is trainless, aisle canvas may be omitted.

Informal

The informal wedding can carry out as many traditions as seem appropriate. Hand written invitations should be sent at least two weeks before the wedding.

The bride may wear a short or floor-length formal gown or an afternoon dress or suit with no veil. A simple bouquet and just one attendant is appropriate.

Depending on the church or chapel, the bride may walk down the aisle with her father or enter from the side door at the left of the altar, with the maid of honor following.

The bridegroom enters from the right with the best man. For a home wedding, the simplicity of an informal affair is beautiful.

It is usually followed by a simple reception.

The little wedding

This is the category that lies somewhere between the informal and the Semi-formal wedding.

A wedding is considered to be little if the guest list does not exceed 75 in number. The invitations, preferably, are hand-written and of course, informally worded.

The bride may still look extremely bride-like. That is, she does not have to minimize her attire. She may wear the conventional bridal headdress and veil and long gown with a court train.

If the wedding takes place before 6 p.m., the groom and men in the wedding party can correctly wear the dark business suit and four-in-hand ties that are muted in color.

Garden Wedding

A garden wedding follows much the same pattern of other weddings. It may be as simple or as elaborate as the bride desires.

There is usually an improvised altar or bower where the couple stand for the ceremony. A lovely garden reception can follow.

Service Wedding

A ceremony with the groom, best man and ushers in officers' uniforms is most colorful. The wedding procession is the same as at any other marriage; only the recessional differs.

Members of the bridal party line up on opposite sides of the aisle as the couple leaves the church. Ushers draw their sabers (called swords in the navy) and, while they are crossed, the couple march beneath them. Sabers are then returned to their places and the attendants follow the bridal couple out of the church.

The enlisted man's wedding is less formal. Rather than crossing sabers, rifles are crossed.

When an officer marries, his bride usually cuts the wedding cake with her new husband's saber.

Second marriage

The bride marrying a second time may follow many of the traditional wedding customs. But, simplicity and informality should reign.

The bride should never wear white. Nor should she wear a veil or carry a white bouquet. A suit, dress or long gown without train is appropriate. Even the wedding cake should have tinted frosting.

The ceremony usually includes only relatives and close friends. A large reception following is perfectly acceptable.

Invitations are preferably informal notes. However, formal announcements are in order.

Trousseau selecting in today's style world

When choosing a trousseau for her new role as a married woman, a bride-to-be can do with a few suggestions from experts in the field of fashion.

Particularly in the popular "basics" in every wardrobe.

The coat that's just a coat, the skirt-and-jacket suit — where are they this spring? More often than not, they've abandoned their traditional roles to become part of a costume.

A coat adds skirt and top or dress, and probably, pants too, while even the most basic and classic suit is likely to show up with its own ready-coordinated blouse or shirt.

When it appears, the separate coat is usually more than just a coat. It goes the any weather way, adding to fashion the extra dimension of protection against spring showers.

Separately, as rain-shine companions or as costume components, the season's coats present a new approach to the classics. Reefers, trenchies, boy coats shape up smartly for spring.

Wrap coats provide soft coverage.

Belts mark waistlines, for coats with fit and flare. Or, belts rise high, just under the bustline, creating an Empire effect.

Suits with lightly fitted or easy cardigan-like jackets take a classic view of spring. However, jacket necklines may be widened to show off a turtle or high crew neck, or perhaps a softly-flowing tie.

Because sleeves, big and bouffant, are fashion news in blouses, some suit jackets go sleeveless, becoming vests or long jerkins.

Hacking jackets, blazers and boleros provide some of the newer ways to suit spring, fashionably. Other jackets show off perky peplums.

Accessories have an important role, too, mostly footwear that can "make or break" the most carefully put-together outfit.

Looking over new leather footwear for spring, one thing is clear. The unisex "he-she" look is out and the "she-she" look is in, as shoe fashions project a more romantic, more sensuous image, one that is truly feminine.

Checkpoints adding up to this new feeling in footwear include lots of openings in pumps, sandals, ties; cleaner, lighter hardware; more leather used as trim; more elegant pump looks; slimmer more shaped heels and rounder toelines.

American leathers produced for these shoes encompass smooth, grained, waxy, brushed, embossed, suede, clear and crushed patent and others.

Pumps have a newer-than-new air. It's partly their higher slimmer heels, partly the openings at sides, backs and toes and partly their pretty trim.

Such decoration might be a bit of draping at the instep, a bow or buckle perched at the vamp, a scalloped or piped throatline or a set-in piece in a different color or leather lying at the instep.

A sprinkling of straps spans the instep of some new pumps. Both casual and tailored daytime pumps use strap motifs in single or multi-strap versions.

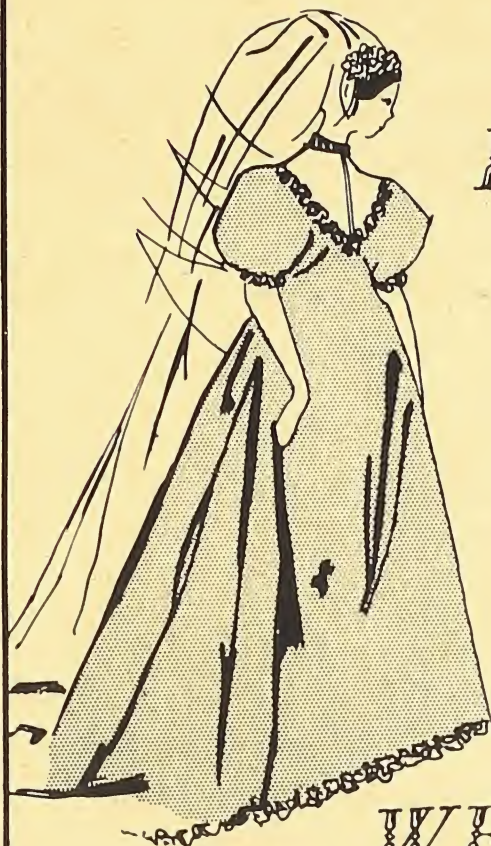

When pumps feature tongue treatment, a gentler touch may also be discerned. Although some tongues still stand up to be counted, many more now are designed to lay flat or have been cut down.

For added softness, brass hardware is often replaced with leather strap or braid.

Sandals tell a "bared and beautiful" story this season. T-straps will take the spotlight in many dashing disguises — from slim highrising tees to wide laced-up tees to the T-strap in a contrast color.
